Chamber's RV, Boat, Auto extravaganza on June 24

For the last few years, a new highlight among the many annual summer events that the Village of Antioch specializes in, the Chamber of Commerce's RV, Boat and Auto Show has become one of the most popular.

This year the show will be held in the parking lot of Antioch Community High School on the last weekend in June.

The show will start at 4 and run until 9 p.m. on Friday, June 24; from 11 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. on Saturday, June 25 and from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday, June 26.

Admission is free and so is area parking. Many prizes will be given away and there will be live music and other entertainment as well as food and refreshment booths.

More exhibitors are expected this year since the exhibition booth space has been expanded.

Burglars busy in Antioch, break into three places

The Antioch Police Dept. is investigating three burglaries committed in the Village of Antioch, two sometime Sunday night-Monday morning and the other sometime between 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. on Monday.

ACHS Board, teachers fail to get together to talk

by GLORIA DAVIS

After talks between the Antioch High School Board's negotiating team and the negotiators for the Antioch High School Teachers' Assn. fell apart, head negotiator for the board, Tom Fisher, sent a letter to Dave Judson, top dealer for the teachers, presenting two alternative dates for the two factions to resume negotiations.

According to Fisher, he gave Judson a choice of Tuesday, June 14 and Wednesday, June 15, adding that if neither was feasible other alternative meeting dates could be set up.

As of Tuesday, June 14, Fisher had heard nothing from Judson.

Judson said that although he had not gotten back to Fisher, he had told Supt. Gary Allen that neither date was acceptable for a meeting. He added that he would be getting back to Fisher to set up a meeting date for next week.

At a special meeting, the board decided to try another meeting instead of proceeding with the proposal to get a professional negotiator.

At that time, the teachers released word that they would be willing to meet with the negotiating committee again, the entire board or whoever the board designated.

The teachers' group also said that it would go all the way to binding arbitration in order to reach an agreement. Binding arbitration has never been used in ACHS teacher negotiations.

Looking for solitude

Away from traffic and suburban hubbub, spindly-legged blue heron enjoys sunny day in back water sanctuary. Blue herons thrive in this locality because of abundance of water, adjusting to ever changing habitat brought on by urbanization. Migratory blue herons, ordinarily loners, seem to adopt to people during summer stay here.—Photo by John Doetsch.

Deadline for Miss Antioch Contest is getting nearer

Anyone wishing to enter either the Miss Antioch or the Little Miss Antioch contest should call the Antioch Village Hall and make an appointment with Parks Dir. Theresa Weber to go in and fill out an official application.

The deadline for filing for both contests is at 4 p.m., on Monday, June 20.

One important change this year is that the pageant will be held in Antioch High School auditorium instead of at the usual site at the Lions Club Pavilion in Williams Park. The pageant, as usual, will be part of the village's big July 4 celebration as it will be held at 6:30 p.m., on Saturday, July 2.

Surgeon general talks on AIDS, smoking, ethics

by GLORIA DAVIS

He looked the stereotype surgeon general of the turn of the century, with his grey hair and beard, clad in a somber gray suit, but his words couldn't have been more 1980s, as his predictions on the future of AIDS in America's teens would have struck terror in a mother's heart.

"Despite the tons of information disseminated by my office and the media in 1987, the huge increase in cases of infectious syphilis and gonorrhea in the 14 to 24-year olds brings up the possibility of AIDS showing up in this same group four or five years from now," he said.

The Surgeon General of the United States Dr. C. Everett Koop was speaking at a press conference preceding the Chicago Medical School's commencement exercises being held at Orchestra Hall in Chicago, early this week.

Koop was slated to give a commencement address concerning the slide in the medical economy being matched by a slide in medical ethics, the sixth address of its kind that the surgeon general has given to new physicians.

The hour-long press conference was for just the wire services, Chicago electronic and print media and Lakeland Newspapers along with a north shore paper.

With reports from the World AIDS Conference now being held in Stockholm, Sweden, announcing that a new case of AIDS is being catalogued every 14 minutes, most of the questions pertained to the top topic in the world, its spread and the possibility of a curative vaccine.

For the first time in the history of the surgeon general's office a gigantic mailing to 107 million households in the United States, explaining the dreaded disease had just been completed by Koop and his people.

He was asked if he expected the heterosexual explosion of AIDS that has been predicted.

He answered that he had never expected an "explosion" equal to the one in the gay community, but warned that a widespread of the disease in the heterosexual community is inevitable.

He reiterated what the pamphlet his office sent out reported to quell such "ridiculous" reports as the recent one from Masters and Johnson, that AIDS can only be contracted three ways, intimate sexual contact, a dirty hypodermic needle and through the transfusion of blood containing the AIDS virus.

When asked if he advocated a "clean needle" program such as is being waged in Europe and other countries, he said, "A program that works on drug addicts in foreign countries will not work on drug addicts in the United States."

He pointed out that drug addicts in foreign countries are often literate and if they will not take advantage of a free "clean" needle offer to avert being tagged as a mainliner, they will purchase a "clean" needle themselves.

According to the surgeon general most addicts in the U. S. are too illiterate to understand and take advantage of such a program.

He reiterated what he has said before, that he does not expect a curative vaccine to be in use in this century but he sees the possibility of medical treatments that will postpone death by AIDS.

When asked about the economic impact the disease could have in the future he made dire predictions of the economic impact on local and the federal governments for the care of AIDS victims saying that the cost of such care will reach $4.5 million in 1991.

Lakeland Newspapers asked the surgeon general a question on another subject that he has been quite vociferous on concerning his recent comparison of cigarette smokers to drug addicts.

He answered that he did not believe that this was a hard comparison since "the same mechanism that triggers cocaine addiction, triggers nicotine addiction."

When asked about the fact that thousands have quit smoking in the last few years with "comparative" ease, compared to the reported 10 percent success gauged by area drug abuse centers, he said that these figures were not factual since "30 percent of cocaine users cure themselves."

"This is the year to start with kindergarten tots," he said, advocating schooling on the effects of smoking in his quest for a "smoke free society by the year 2000."

According to Koop, the greatest fight against the spread of AIDS and diseases caused by smoking must start at home with parents teaching their toddlers and continue in the schools with parents backing the schools' teaching on the subject.

He also told one reporter that he still urges every person over the age of 40 to take an aspirin a day for better health.

He then left to talk to graduating doctors, urging them to keep their medical ethics standards high no matter what the financial status of medicine is or becomes in the future.

Sunday blaze arson probed

Arson is suspected in an early-morning fire at 129 Washington St., Ingleside, on June 12.

Firemen received a call at 2:30 a.m. to the vacant two-story structure with JR's Filling Station on the lower level and a residence on the second floor. Both were unoccupied.

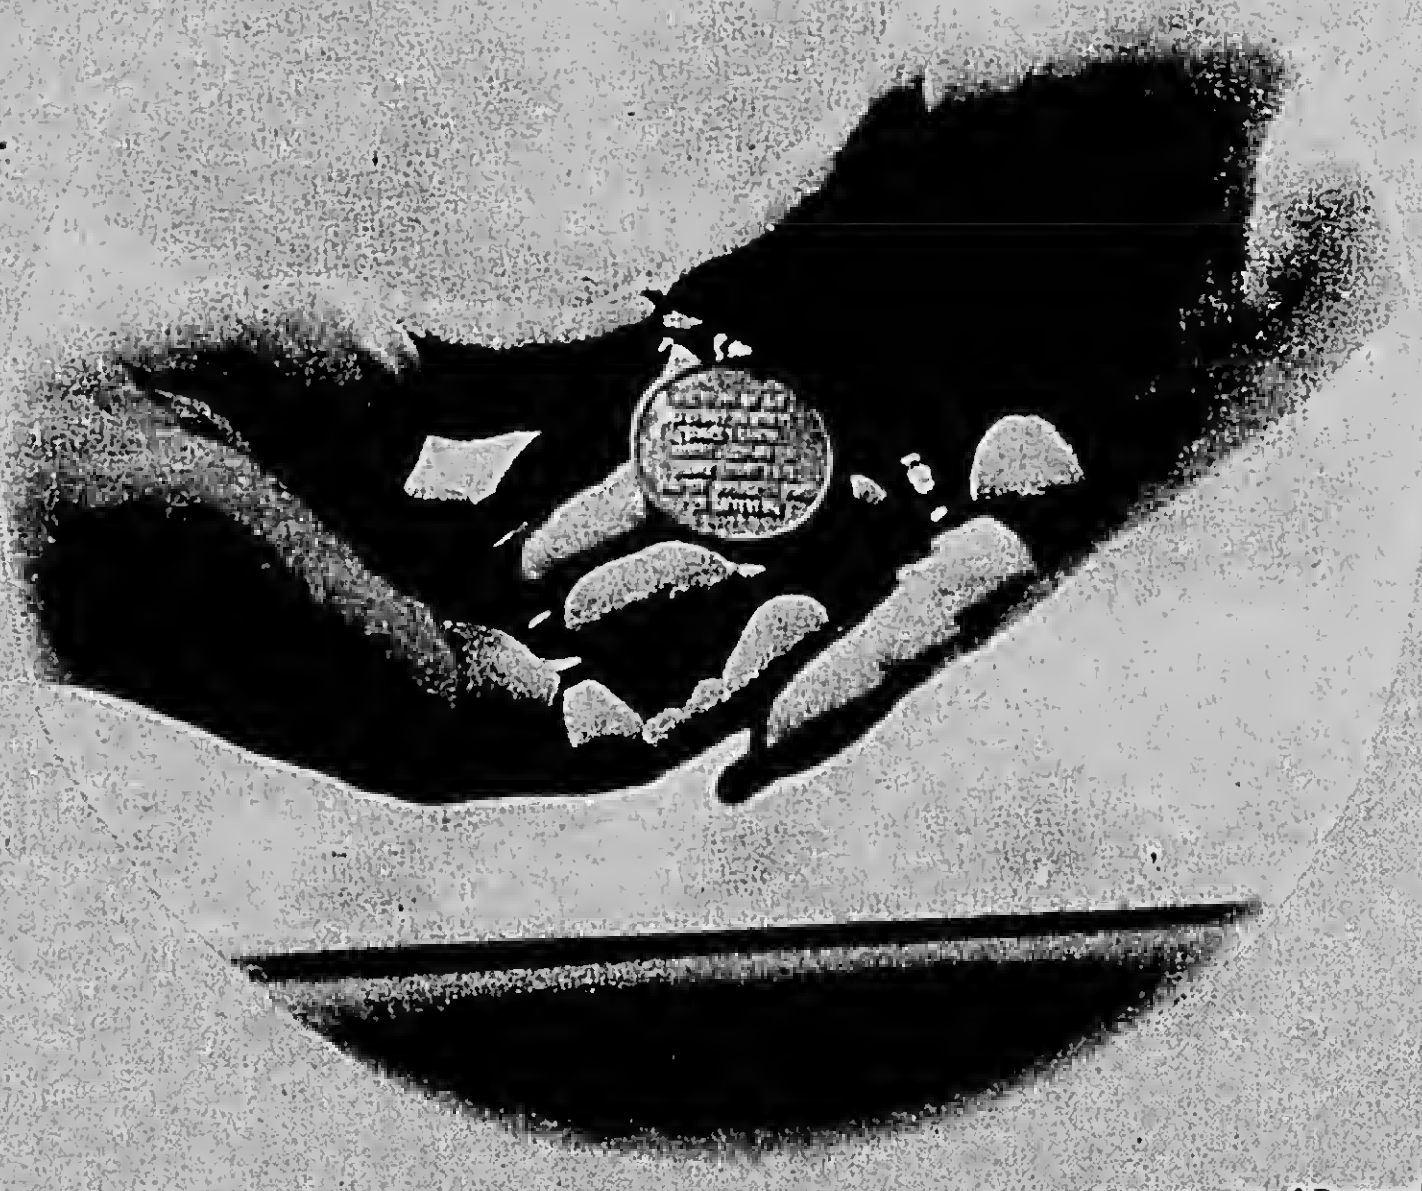

When they arrived firemen saw flames shooting out of a second-floor window where the blaze started. They could detect gasoline fumes as they entered the building. Firemen spent two hours at the scene. Most damage was confined to the second floor.

An arson investigation is underway. There was no estimate of loss to the structure or contents, however, it was extensive, a fire department spokesman said.

New sergeant

Howard E. Emery, son of Betty J. Leonard of Pembroke Pines, Fla., and Howard Emery of Pueblo West, Colo., has been promoted to the rank of sergeant while serving with the U.S. Air Force. He is a cryptographic equipment systems maintenance supervisor at Falcon Air Force Station, Colo., with the 1879th Communications Squadron. He is a 1973 graduate of Richmond-Burton High School. He received an associate college degree in 1983 from the Community College of the Air Force. His wife, Nancy, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Etten of Richmond.

This could be your child's most important Victory.

The Victory Medallion Ceremony celebrates the adolescent's completion of the Chemical Dependency Program. It is awarded to staff and other patients to symbolize a new start and a new life.

Victory Over Alcohol and Drugs.

It is a problem that all parents would like to keep from their doorstep. And yet the sad reality shows alcohol and drug abuse now affecting 15% of our 12 to 18 year olds.

The disease of addiction can destroy a young person's health, home-life, and emotional well-being.

And that's why Victory Hospital has established a new Adolescent Chemical Dependency Unit.

Victory's medically supervised program helps the adolescent in an home-like environment, while stressing family involvement. Highly trained physicians, addiction counselors and nurses manage the rehabilitation process, guiding the teen on the road to recovery.

If you or a loved one needs assistance or information concerning adolescent alcohol or drug abuse, call the Victory Adolescent Chemical Dependency team at 360-HELP, anytime. All information is kept completely confidential.

We'll help you take that first step to victory.

How does local day care measure up for parents looking for openings?

Editor's note: This is the second in a series on day care in Lake County, and is put together through the combined efforts of the editors of the Lakeland Newspapers.

by IRIS MAYFIELD

Is day care in a mess because working parents don't know where to take their children because the places they want to take them to are full up? Does that mean parents end up putting their children where they don't want them to go?

While a survey of 25 Lake County day-care centers showed an abundance of waiting lists, it also showed some places that have openings. Then, it showed two other problems. Parents are not given referrals when they go to a day-care center to register their child, and find that center full. The other problem is that there are not enough instructors available.

This problem is stated by a representative from a commercial chain in Grayslake, with another representative from a Lake Villa center agreeing that, "There are not enough (instructors) available in terms of what the state requires." The reason cited was low pay.

Day-care centers are licensed by the state, through the Ill. Dept. of Children and Family Services (IDCFS).

Pat Smith, Administrative Ass't., Office of Communications with the Springfield IDCFS said, "Exempted from licensing are churches, public and private schools including universities, Montessori centers, but some (Montessori centers) are licensed. A center must be licensed to receive public funds. Homes, usually private, have three to eight children. Centers have more than eight, and are usually not in private homes."

Because of the Child Care Act of 1969, everyone working in a state licensed child care center or home, falls under licensing standards. Those standards are found in part 407 of the Licensing Standards for Day Care Centers.

Addressing the complaint that, "There are not enough (instructors) available in terms of what the state requires," the state requirements are eight pages long. They spell out general requirements such as good personal hygiene, and emotional maturity. They also spell out specific requirements for the director, assistants, service staff, and substitutes and volunteers.

This section culminates with a "Background Inquiry: As a condition of issuance or renewal of a license by the Department, the day care center shall require all prospective and current employees who have direct contact with children to furnish written information on any offenses for which they have been convicted in accordance with 89 Ill. Adm. Code 358."

All licensed centers are required to distribute a summary of the licensing standards to the parent or guardian of each child accepted for care.

My Tree House is located in Antioch,

Squiggy

The Peppermint Stick Pre-School in Grayslake provides day care, not only for 2 to 6-years-old, but also for one guinea pig named Squiggy. The pre-school cares for children through kindergarten, before and after school, with 60 children presently enrolled. Parent Becky Rogers and daughter Ashley, as well as the other pre-schoolers, enjoy checking out Squiggy first thing in the morning.

Lindenhurst, and Lake Villa Twp. Their pre-school accepts two to six-year-olds for $75 a week. They also have a new after-school program for up to 10-year-olds at $65 for a 6:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. five-day week.

My Tree House serves a hot meal at noon, and snacks, and has six staff members. They have summer openings for pre-school, and openings in their after-school program.

Kiddie U., in the Grace Community Church in Venetian Village is a licensed pre-school center. Morning and afternoon classes are offered for three, four, and five-years-old. The cost is $55 a month for two-days-a-week, $70 for three-days-a-week, Monday through Friday. There are 21 students per class, two teachers per class.

My Tree House, 309 Granada Blvd., Lindenhurst, is a state licensed center for up to 50 students. It is at capacity and has a waiting list. Class sizes range from 12 in the two-years-old group, to 15 in the three, four and five-years-old groups. Costs range from $65 for three days per week to $75 for others. This includes snacks, hot lunch, and school arts and crafts supplies.

The Sunshine Child Care Center, 913 W. Rollins Rd., Round Lake Beach, (312)546-3383, has openings in all classes. During the day they care for about 60 children with another 20 after school. They have a 110 capacity. Their weekly rates are; toddler $68, and pre-school $63.

Further rates are, for their before and after kindergarten program, which includes transportation to and from school, and lunch, is $63. If the school provides transportation, it is $52. After kindergarten care only, with parents providing transportation, is $52. If the school provides transportation, it is $47.

The Peppermint Stick Pre-School, 1124 N. Cedar Lake Rd., Round Lake Beach, (312)546-1160, has some openings. They care for 2 to 12-year-olds, with weekly rates at $64 for all ages.

The last problem, that of referrals, goes lacking because day-care administrators are hesitant to refer parents to individuals in the area, not knowing who, what or where they are.

The Ill. Dept. of Children & Family Services in Springfield maintains a list of "licensed or permitted daycare centers in Illinois sorted by county zip within county," as well as "licensed or permitted daycare homes in Illinois sorted by county within zipcode within facility name."

Both or either of these lists may be requested from the State of Illinois, Dept. of Children & Family Services, 406 East Monroe St., Springfield, Ill 62701-1498

Vehicle tag fee doubles

Beginning July 1, Fox Lake police will enforce the village vehicle sticker ordinance. Police Chief Joe Semasko said.

On the same date, the cost of a sticker will jump from $10 to $20. Under the ordinance, all vehicles are required to have stickers displayed, even if inoperable, the chief said.

Semasko also noted vehicles registered out-of-state, such as those belonging to summer residents, are required to have stickers displayed if located in Fox Lake more than 24 hours.

To avoid confusion, Chief Semasko pointed out that Fox Lake residents with Ingleside mailing addresses are required to purchase vehicle stickers.

Late sticker buyers, if ticketed by police, will be subject to a fine of $25 to $50, plus purchase of a ticket, the chief stated. Last day to purchase vehicle stickers at the regular price is Thursday, June 30.

Neighbors sign complaint about man with 14 dogs

Almost one-half dozen residents of Larken Subdivision in Ingleside have filed a complaint against a neighbor with 14 dogs, two of them wolves. Lake County State's Atty. Fred Foreman will decide if there is a case he can successfully prosecute. It could be a repeat of a January court appearance for Peter Bogner, 31, of 26973 Marion Ct. under similar circumstances.

At that time he was accused of harboring wolves. In a brief court appearance that drew Chicagoland media attention, it was ruled the wolves were cross breeds containing more of a dog strain than that of a wolf.

The two part wolves named Flora and Fauna came to the neighborhood last fall when Bogner moved there from Barrington following complaints in that community about the large number of dogs he had. The wolf-dogs are 26 months old. The other mostly large-size dogs range from whippets to greyhounds and appear to be pedigree stock. In recent weeks neighbors said the whippet and one of the wolf-dogs mated to produce still another cross breed.

Those signing the complaint said Bogner lives in an average home with average-size lot that is too small to keep so many dogs. They said the gangly dogs are sometimes loose or escape from pens and leap over a fence surrounding the property and roam at will in wooded property that soon will become a new subdivision.

The neighbors also say the dogs howl, not bark, at various hours of the day and night. This often is precipitated by one of the wolf-dogs howling or a neighbor slamming a car door, opening a garage door or making other types of sounds. They also say the animal litter in the yard produces a stench.

Those signing the complaint and some who did not admit the warm weather as of late when they keep their windows open has aggravated the problem.

In his January court appearance Bogner claimed all of the animals, even the wolf-dogs, are pets. The state Agriculture Dept. said it had no control over the wolf-dogs since they are not considered 100 per cent wild animals.

The complainants hope the state's attorney resolves the matter soon so they can enjoy summer by using their yards and keeping their windows open at night. They said the howling was not as noticeable in the winter and spring months when windows were mostly closed and people remained indoors.

Sewer funds being held up in state process

by GLORIA DAVIS

At its last regular board meeting, The Antioch Village Board heard a report from Public Works Dir. Tim Wells concerning the sewer plant which has been put on critical review by the Ill. Environmental Protection Agency because it is at 80 percent capacity.

At present the plant is undergoing revamping to bring it up to IEPA requirements. Wells told the board that the new construction will give the plant another 100,000 gallons of capacity which will put the plant well under the present 80 percent.

Last week, Wells went to Springfield in search of any funding for the costly improvements.

He found that funding for sewer improvements to bring Illinois sewer plants up to standard are included in the sales tax bill which is still in sub-committee.

The bill has yet to come before the house and senate.

"Since the legislative session is up on June 30, we hope the bill comes before the legislators before then. Either way we should know something by that date," said Wells.

Also at the last meeting, the village became larger by 78 acres, as the board approved the annexation of that much land east of Deep Lake Rd.

According to Mayor Ray Toft, the State of Illinois is looking at land in that area as a site for a park and the newly annexed acreage, owned by Cicero Lithuania, Inc., runs to that property.

Reports are that the property is zoned E1, meaning each estate must be at least one acre in size. It appears that there are no immediate use plans for the newly annexed acreage.

Red hot July 4 coming with special entertainment

Things will be "Red Hot" this Fourth of July in Antioch and this is not a weather forecast. The Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. announces a special theme for the eighth annual Independence Day Celebration.

This year's festivities will be dedicated to the special people dedicated to protecting the community from disaster: The Antioch Fire Dept.

Antioch Jaycees have busy project year ahead

The Antioch Jaycees have completed their ninth annual Bowling for the Benefit of Autistic Children. The event was at the Antioch Bowl and it raised approximately $1,800 to be donated to the Special Education Dist. of Lake County (SEDOL) for the educational programming of area autistic children.

This is just one of the many projects the Antioch Jaycees have scheduled for the upcoming year. The Jaycees is a non-profit organization whose sole purpose is to organize and run projects for the betterment of the community.

Other projects scheduled by the Jaycees include a boaters' safety course, a shooters' education course, a voters' registration drive held at the First National Bank of Antioch, a big-top circus at the Antioch Lower Grade School, a haunted house, a Santa breakfast, the annual Santa phone calls to area children, a Christmas wish program, project fingerprint, and sending developmentally disabled children to Camp New Hope.

Anyone who is interested in taking part in worthwhile community projects and becoming an Antioch Jaycee can contact Joel Johnson, (312)395-3111.

The theme, "75 Years of Red Hot Service," describes the contribution the fire department has made to the community for three quarters of a century.

The fun begins July 2 with the Miss Antioch and Little Miss Pageant. Note that the pageants will take place at Antioch Community High School this year and not the pavillion. The spotlight shines on Antioch's finest young ladies at 6:30 p.m.

There are events for the entire family throughout the village beginning at 1 p.m., July 3. A parade celebrating the 75th Anniversary of the Antioch Fire Dept. will start at the high school and end at Williams Park.

At 2 p.m., Williams Park becomes the center for all the action. The members of the fire department will display their hose-handling skills during the annual waterfights.

Little League activities and kid's games will keep the young ones entertained. The Antioch Aqua Center will also be open to the public to give everyone a relief from the blaze of activities.

Musical entertainment begins with Bernie Gunty and the New Peptones. Ernie Levas takes the microphone at 5:30 p.m. and will keep the crowd dancing until 9:30 p.m.

The day will end with a bang as the fire department lights up the sky at 9:30 p.m. with the annual fireworks display. Food and drinks will be available throughout the day and evening.

With school vacation now two weeks gone and 10 to go, are you crazy yet? Has the newness of it worn off enough to expose all the imperfections? Are you tired of "wall-to-wall" kids, pets and the like? Is it like living in a boiler factory? Do you yearn to get away from it all? Hopefully, you and yours will be able to enjoy a week or two someplace else, but for some of us with mortgages, car payments and impending college tuitions to pay, we'll just have to dream.

The fourth annual Antioch RV, Boat and Auto Show might be just the place to realize your dreams. Sponsored by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, this favorite event will be held Friday through Sunday, June 24 through 26, at the rear parking lots of Antioch High School, Rtes. 173 and 83. Come on over for fun, food and live music featuring the band Heartland. You'll see your friends, and it sure heats watching the "tube" or cutting grass.

Advantages to town living—technology sure beats the old way! If village residents place their cut tree limbs or hushes on the parkway in front of their homes, village workers will pick the debris up and chop them into wood chips on the second Monday of the month during the growing season. That sure beats haggling them all. Thanks!

Don't forget this coming week is the special "Buy a ticket, get the second one at half-price" performance of "Dracula, the Musical!" at our favorite Antioch PM&L Theatre, 877 Main

Two 'cop' guilty pleas, get reduced sentences

Four men were arrested for the armed robbery of a grocery store on Grass Lake Rd., near Antioch, last February.

Last week, two of the four men entered negotiated pleas of guilty in a Lake County Court.

Richard Nava, 18, Antioch, the alleged lookout posted outside of the store, pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of robbery instead of armed robbery and now stands to be sentenced to three-and-one-years in jail instead of the minimum six or maximum 30 years the previous charge calls for.

James Dietrich, 24, also negotiated a guilty plea through his attorney. His sentence is set not to exceed 15 years.

The two remaining men, James Browning, 18, and Jerry Herron, 17, (the alleged driver of the get-a-way car) both also of Antioch, will go on trial in Lake County Court on Monday, June 27.

In the plea negotiations, Nava and Dietrich both pledged that they would give truthful testimony at the trials of the other two men charged.

According to the police report, Dietrich and Browning, both wearing ski masks, entered the store and ordered the store's clerk to fill a bag with money from the register.

Dietrich welded a pistol and Browning carried the canvas bag.

The charges say that

Dietrich pressed the gun into the clerk's head. About $100 in bills plus change was put into the bag.

Although Dietrich hid behind the counter and ordered the clerk to lie on the floor, two teens passing in a car caught sight of a person wearing a ski mask inside the store after noting one man in a car and another standing outside and notified the police.

All four were arrested shortly after the robbery and the gun, the bag full of money and the ski masks were also recovered by the police.

WEAR AND CARE

How much do you weigh? Imagine your weight compressed to fit an area less than half a square foot, then lifting and dropping it a few inches repeatedly on pavement and other hard surfaces.

That's what you do with every step you take. Your feet take more pressure and wear than any other part of the body.

No wonder foot ailments are so widespread. Yet many people tend to ignore symptoms, even pain, until the condition becomes intolerable.

Self-treatment of minor problems often worsens them.

The foot is a complex living mechanism of 26 small bones, many ligaments, muscles and blood vessels. Even discomforts that seem minor at their outset deserves the specialized care of the podiatrist before they become major debilitating disorders.

Trustees said the tennis courts are in a largely residential area and there is insufficient parking. The Jaycees were asked to pick a different site. No date for the dance has been set.

LEGAL PUBLIC NOTIFICATION LEAD CONTAMINATION IN DRINKING WATER FOR THE VILLAGE OF ANTIOCH

Congress legislated a ban on use of all lead solder and pipe as a part of the Safe Drinking Water Act Amendments of 1986. The language in those amendments requires that all public water supplies notify their water consumers of the potential dangers of lead in drinking water, and provide information regarding steps consumers can take to prevent ingesting water containing high lead levels.

Lead has been used in piping, solder, flux and plumbing appurtenances such as faucets for many years. Solder and flux used to join copper pipe contains lead. It is likely that some portion of your home or business plumbing system contains lead, if the system was constructed prior to the implementation of the lead ban in 1986.

Routine chemical sampling in Illinois has not confirmed lead above the national standard in the drinking water which leaves your local water treatment plant and enters the public water supply distribution system. Contamination occurs within the private plumbing systems attached to the public water supply distribution system. Plumbing fixtures, solder containing lead and, in some cases, lead pipe, can permit lead to leach into the drinking water if water is left standing in the pipes for several hours, or if the water itself is somewhat corrosive. To prevent lead contamination, remember:

Use only cold water for drinking, cooking and preparing baby formula.

If water has not been run in your home, school or business for several hours, (overnight, on weekends, during vacation periods), turn on the tap and allow the water to run until you feel a temperature change. This will remove or flush the water which has been standing in the pipes and supply water directly from the public water supply distribution system piping. It is very important that school custodians flush the drinking fountains each morning before children arrive.

Home softeners should not be plumbed to the cold water which is used for drinking and cooking. A separate pipe can be installed for cooking and drinking, or the softener can be installed to include only hot water processing.

Place a glass or pitcher of water in the bedroom or bathroom for small children or members of the family who get up in the night for a drink of water. Store same drinking water in a glass jug in the refrigerator for drinking.

Be sure small children understand the importance of allowing the water to run until the temperature changes before drinking.

The average lead content in the water delivered to your home is less than 5 parts per billion. This concentration is within the limit of 50 parts per billion allowed by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

The pH and hardness of the water are such that a thin layer of calcium carbonate is deposited on the insides of the distribution lines and plumbing to prevent corrosion of piping.

If you think lead has been used in your home plumbing system, conduct this easy test of pipes or solder. A key or screwdriver can be used to scratch the surface of any dull grey pipe or soldered joint. If the metal scratches easily and appears bright silver, the pipe or solder is most likely lead. Consult with a licensed plumber to discuss whether or not lead is present in your plumbing system, and which methods you can use to remove the lead from your home or business.

Questions concerning lead in drinking water should be directed to:

Questions regarding Water Treatment and Distribution: Timothy Wells, Public Works Administrator, 395-1000.

Questions regarding plumbing regulations should be directed to: Mike Ruxton, Plumbing Inspector, 395-1881.

Questions regarding actual health effects information or physical screening should be directed to: your personal physician, pediatrician or obstetrician; or The Lake County Health Department, 360-6747.

Questions regarding sampling and analysis of your home or business water should be directed to a laboratory certified by the IEPA to perform analysis for lead. A list of laboratories certified to perform lead analysis is available from: Timothy Wells, Public Works Administrator, 395-1000.

USEPA has a toll-free Safe Drinking Water Act hotline. Questions regarding federal regulations should be referred to this number, 1-800-426-4791.

The following information is required by USEPA to be included in all public notification issued:

"The United States Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that lead is a health concern at certain levels of exposure. There is currently a standard of 0.050 parts per million (ppm) (this is equivalent to 50 parts per billion). Based on new health information, USEPA is likely to lower this standard significantly.

Part of the purpose of this notice is to inform you of the potential adverse health effects of lead. This is being done even though your water may not be in violation of the current standard.

USEPA and others are concerned about lead in drinking water. Too much lead in the human body can cause serious damage to the brain, kidneys, nervous system, and red blood cells. The greatest risk, even with short-term exposure, is to young children and pregnant women.

Lead levels in your drinking water are likely to be highest:

--if your home or water system has lead pipes, or

--if your home has copper pipes with lead solder, and

--if the home is less than five years old, or

--if you have soft or acidic water, or

--if water sits in the pipes for several hours."

When using water which has been standing in your system for several hours or longer, be sure to flush the system as recommended above.

Meeting distinguished visitor

Illinois Sect. of State James Edgar, standing second from right, was in Lake County this week for a fund raiser of Moravella's restaurant in Fox Lake. Among those meeting and greeting him were Lake County Building Dept. Director Robert Streicher, standing left, and Lorain Stefaniak and Elmer Steele, standing on either side of Edgar, both volunteers in the senior citizen Rules of the Road program. Seated from left are Enid Bartlett of the Sect. of State's Waukegon office and Mary Lou Wolter of the Libertyville office. The June 13 event was attended by more than 100 persons who paid $50 per plate.

Sore spot in the schools

Big guns are trained on the question of raising taxes in Illinois. The biggest gun of all is Gov. James Thompson, with a $1.3-billion tax increase plan to be funded largely by raising the individual tax rate from the current 2.5 percent to 3.5 percent, the first permanent increase in the state's income tax. There also will be an increase in the corporate income tax, from 1.6 to 5.6 percent.

Except for reinstatement of the double tax exemption for the elderly and blind, there is no other tax relief in the Thompson plan, contrary to earlier reports about some property tax relief.

Most of the increase—$798 million—would be earmarked for education under the Thompson plan. That's the rub, because the governor's proposal did not include any specific plans for Chicago school reform, state school aid formula changes, property tax relief or business tax incentives—four needs Republican leaders in the General Assembly have been advocating.

Chicago school reform is a sore spot with citizens as well as many legislators. Without a major change in the way the Chicago teachers' union and the bloated Chicago public school bureaucracy handle state money, a good bit of increased state aid will be going down a rat hole.

The shameful Chicago school situation reflects adversely on our local school system and other schools throughout the state.

Taxpayers will loosen the purse strings when a genuine need can be shown for financial help for education. But as long as so much money is siphoned off before it gets into Chicago classrooms, the entire public educational system in the state will be waiting—and hurting. You can't blame the people, but you can blame those responsible for the Chicago school mess.

If the governor and other big guns advocating a tax increase, along with teacher unionists elsewhere throughout the state, would take the Chicago school wheeler-dealers to task, the misappropriation of funds could be cleared up in a hurry.

Looking for loopholes

Illinois has a pretty good law designed to ensure that public business is public. It's called the Illinois Open Meetings Act.

The law provides for public notice of meetings and allows for confidentiality during discussion in three sensitive areas—litigation, land acquisition and personnel. That makes sense, and it's reasonable. Even with the allowances for conducting secret meetings, the Open Meetings Act specifically provides that all final action must be taken in public.

The problem with the Illinois Open Meetings Act is that an inordinate amount of public officials and their legal counsel spend an inordinate amount of time looking for loopholes in the act. Far too many public officials and their legal counsel spend an inordinate amount of time looking for loopholes in the act.

We are particularly concerned when public bodies abuse the legal prohibitions for conducting public business in public. The Lake Zurich Village Board provides a regular agenda spot for "executive" sessions, ostensibly to discuss pending litigation. The regularity of the meetings behind closed doors at Lake Zurich begs the question whether the council is mired in far too many legal matters, or whether it is skirting the Open Meetings Act. There are other public bodies committing regular or frequent abuses of the law.

DuPage County State's Atty. James Ryan is spearheading efforts to close loopholes in the Open Meeting Act with H.B. 2004. Revisions include prohibition of public bodies from taking action on ordinances identified by number only. Legislators are considering an amendment requiring periodic review of minutes of secret meetings so the decision can be made—in public—whether further confidentiality is necessary.

We are in full support of efforts to strengthen the Illinois Open Meetings Act, not because it helps us do our job better but because the public benefits when public business is conducted in public.

Elected officials should get it out of their heads that conducting business in secret is pulling something over on the press. Working behind closed doors is a misplacement of public trust. There already are three legal prohibitions in the Open Meetings Act. That's enough. Officials don't have to look for any more loopholes.

Leave short hops to the rabbits, driving's faster

by BILL SCHROEDER

If you're not in a hurry and you don't mind inconvenience, flying isn't a bad way to get from one place to another.

For a short hop, like Springfield, though, there probably are better ways of traveling than taking to the wild blue yonder.

On a whim, the lady of the house and I decided to take an airplane ride to the state capitol for a newspaper conference rather than drive. At the time, driving no farther than O'Hare Airport seemed like a good idea. And when the reservations clerk reported a flight to Springfield departing in 45 minutes, both of us sighed, "this ought to be fun," as opposed to a four and a half hour drive after working all day. Not so.

By the time we checked bags, the flight officially was rescheduled more than an hour later—air control delay. We were able only to choke down a hotdog after paying for the tickets. Most folks fly to Miami or L.A. for what it costs for a ticket to Springfield. Short hop prices, I discovered, are the equivalent in mileage of a trip on the Concorde to London. Welcome to the world of deregulation.

After a brief stop at Champaign, we made Springfield, more than an hour after the originally scheduled 9:10 p.m. arrival. I can't blame the airline or a befuddled motel shuttle driver for leaving us stranded, but by the time we found a cab and got to the motel, it was 11:30 p.m. Considering that we left the office at 5:30 p.m. through the marvels of modern air travel a four and a half hour trip only took six hours. But think of the fun we were having.

Let's check that. The twin engine aircraft reminded me of the patched job the Army used to haul me and about 50 other guys to California for basic training during the Korean War. When the flight attendant, who dovetails her airline job with part-time work as a member of an Australian tag team, spilled a tray of drinks in our laps, it was time to recognize the realization of a whim for what it was: disaster.

On the way back, this time we were able to connect with the shuttle driver. Only there were more air traffic control delays so the trip was delayed about an hour. Surprise, if we were seasoned air travelers, we would have known to avoid Friday afternoon at O'Hare.

Give the airline good marks on the trip back. Normal flight time. About 50 minutes. This time the flight attendant kept her balance. The most enjoyable part of the return journey was spotting a familiar face in the seat across the aisle, former Lake County Board Chairman Jim LaBelle, looking trim and fit after his battle with cancer. A frequent Springfield flyer as part of his duties in state government, Jim advised that it's much better to use Meigs Field and avoid the O'Hare crunch.

Portal to portal time elapsed from motel to our driveway: five hours. Not too shabby if you omit the $24 parking tab at O'Hare.

By the way, dear. Next time I get a whim, tell me to buy you a new dress. Hereafter, we'll drive to Springfield. Make that two dresses.

Letters To The Editor

Big school boost

Editor:

We are in favor of the proposed Gurnee Mills project.

In addition to giving Gurnee much needed commercial development, the mall will provide a big boost to Woodland School Dist. 50 which is now operating in the red. The Woodland School Dist. has experienced great residential growth with no commercial development to offset the rising cost of education. Sixty (60%) of the Dist. 50 budget is based on residential taxes; that is not enough to even minimally support district costs.

While no one in northern Lake County wants another Schaumburg, the development of a balanced tax base is essential to the economic health of the area.

The proposed Gurnee Mills project offers the maximum in economic benefits to our tax base with maximum impact on the environment. The current population of Lake County and the I-94 corridor will continue to grow dramatically in spite of our desire to maintain the rural character of the area. We would rather see this mall, which would economically benefit all of Lake County, than a factory or another apartment complex.

Approval of this project will be a major step toward providing the funding for basic community services, including education, that northern Lake County needs to provide a quality life for all residents—now and in the future.

Is Hitler back again?

Editor:

Remember in the late 20s and 30s

when Adolph Hitler pulled all this cute stuff that Mike Graham is now pulling? Don't you remember how Hitler grabbed everything he got his hands on "for the good of the German people and the Third Reich?" Do you remember how he took the small parcels of land and then kept right on going until he had most of Europe?

I am amazed at the county board, that can be pulled around by the ring in their nose by Mike Graham. Most of them don't even know that the land they are taking belongs to hardworking men that have, in the past, donated much of their land to and for the betterment of the county. One parcel of 162 acres has been donated, out of the goodness of his heart, to the Swedish Covenant Church. Does this make any difference to Mike Graham? Not in the least. Maybe he's an atheist. We have a beautiful college because of the goodness of Mr. Anderson. What has Mike Graham done worthwhile around here?

Fiscal conditions pressing

Editor:

During the course of the spring legislative session, I've heard from many people throughout the 60th Dist. either by phone, mail or in person. I appreciate hearing from my constituents, and I urge you to continue contacting me with any concerns, comments or suggestions you have—either about issues in Springfield or matters here in the district. Direct contact with constituents is one of the best ways for me to keep in tune with what the people of the 60th Dist. need and want.

Although the legislative session is half over, there are still many topics to be considered—topics that affect you. One of the more pressing matters is the state's fiscal condition. While no concrete tax increase proposals have been put forth yet, it is extremely likely that lawmakers, such as myself, will be debating the merits of and need for a tax increase. Of course, we will first be investigating ways of eliminating waste and cutting unnecessary spending before we turn to taxpayers for financial help.

William E. Peterson
State Representative
60th Dist.

Need tax increase

Editor:

The League of Women Voters believes that Illinois must have an income tax increase this year to fund essential human services and quality education.

Illinois is reaching a crisis situation due to tight fiscal conditions which are delaying the payment of state bills, forcing service providers to go into debt and bankruptcy. For 18 months, the state's treasury has been below the generally accepted level of $200 million, and last August it reached the very critical level of $17 million. All of this has occurred during a period of relatively good economic times. What would happen if a recession were to occur?

In 1985, the legislature approved an expensive education reform package but failed to fund it adequately—the burden has fallen on local school districts, most of whom cannot afford to pay for these new mandates. Community mental health programs are also seriously underfunded. No action

OFF THE WALL

A GIRL'S GEOGRAPHY IS MORE IMPORTANT THAN HER HISTORY

National medical care sidesteps social tinge

(First in a series)

The subject of National Health Care has come up repeatedly. In a capitalistic country, like ours, the dread 'S' word for Socialized Medicine is unpleasant. The term National Health Service or National Health Insurance is preferred and is used even in socialist countries.

Since books are written on the subject I wouldn't have the shutzpah to attempt an exhaustive study here. One noticeable aspect is that those people for it are usually PhDs in the social sciences; they will not have to provide medical care under it. Those against its adoption are usually the physicians who, under strict rules for treating patients, will have to accede to who may be treated, by what means, for how long, and all in the name of budgetary limits, not necessarily in the best interests of the patient.

Strict constraints as to the doctor's earnings are also enforced. It should be understood that there is no such thing as a single system. In debates about the subject this is always pointed out by those people favoring it. They counter any criticism by the canny observation that would never happen here in "our plan". Consideration being warranted, the Subject will be treated in two parts for better understanding.

Why National Health Insurance? It's one method to control medical costs; it's intent is to get medical care to all a country's citizens. A woman interviewed in a socialistic country pointed out the usual socialist credo "we all accept less care, so everyone gets care." She went on, "but we are getting less and less care."

How does it work? In general, money goes to a social security system which may be partitioned into sickness and social funds. From here on, each country's bureaucracy behaves in a manner compatible with it's national character. There are soft and tough approaches.

As increasing shares of the costs are borne by government, standards are set and rationing of care enforced by means of these standards. There is acceptance and there is grumbling. There is satisfaction and protest. Several things seem to occur in all the systems. Costs continue to go up (although slower under government National Health Service). In an effort to forestall rising costs, less care is afforded or less money is spent on equipment. Decision is made as to who gets care; rationing of any goods or services is a natural result whenever scarcity is present, whether natural or made by man.

Looking at Great Britain's experience may be enlightening because we tend to think it is closest to our democracy. Called the National Health Service or NHS, it was the first comprehensive national health scheme adopted by the West. Moreover it has evolved over a period of 40 years, so we may learn from it. (Parts of the German system are older but were not comprehensive in the beginning.)

The government decides what treatment or technologies the public will get. This is decided on basis of cost, not on need. If they are expensive, new machines are not bought. One authority estimates this puts the United Kingdom 10 years behind the United States. Because of rationing, conservative estimates suggest 70,000 people in the United Kingdom are awaiting treatment or an available bed. Some of these will be denied useful or occasionally lifesaving treatment.

In cancer care the British physician can keep up with our doctors by using chemicals or radiation, especially if it is reasoned that these relatively inexpensive methods may be successful. If not successful in a reasonable time, doctors are not censured for giving up sooner than we would here. Malpractice suits are relatively rare.

Medical usings

By Leo Tannenbaum, M.D.

The saving grace in Great Britain is that private hospitals and care are also allowed to exist. They make up a very tiny part of medical care (0.6% of gross domestic product to our 6.3%). They stay current with modern advances at a cheaper cost since labor and legal insurance is only a small fraction of our costs. No one faults the nurses and doctors. They are excellent in their dedication and discipline.

The closest thing in the U.S. that approaches rationing is the HMO, especially if used in conjunction with Medicare. In every country where Socialized Medicine is in, HMOs fade out because no one needs to enroll if the government is going to provide medical care. Once our politicians think it is time to suggest a National Health Service, we will find a strange switch. The HMOs will be in the forefront of those coming out for doctor's freedom.

There are some obvious differences between American and the socialized systems. The nurses, doctors, and other employees of the socialized systems can strike. The medical profession can put fees up for arbitration. We haven't been allowing these freely yet.

The British are appalled by the fact that no matter how much money they pour into their "free medical care", hospitals are more run down, wards are closing for lack of cash, equipment and lack of materials are depleted, and patients in need of surgery are waiting months while their conditions may deteriorate.

Prime Minister Thatcher, head of the Conservative Party, has had success in turning some state-owned industries toward becoming at least partly private. But any suggestion to decrease Medical Care's burden by token privatization even by such mild measures as having those well off pay for their care in the socialized hospitals or giving tax breaks to those buying private insurance, creates public outcry. The Labor Party may defeat the Conservatives on this issue. One need remember only that the National Health Insurance hires one million people; it is the largest employer in all of Europe. One in six people either works for or has a relative or friend employed by NHI. That makes anything but minor change politically unlikely.

Other columns will consider NHI in other countries.

fail to do so is to ensure that Illinois will become increasingly less attractive as a place to live and work. An increase in the income tax is a small price to pay for good schools, good human services, and a good quality of life.

League of Women
Voters of Lake County

Politically speaking . . .

by Joseph Soulak

Anyone remember a man named Garfield Leaf? No, not the one of comic strip fame. The 16-year Lake County clerk in the late '50s and the '60s.

He is alive at age 86 and well in Colorado Springs, Colo. He's never been back to Lake County since retiring in 1970 and moving west. He spends his days working in the yard and working in the garden and flower beds since he gave up golf. His wife, Charlotte, still makes periodic trips back home to visit her brother, Donald Doolittle, of Waukegan.

Leaf got his start in county government in the 1930s when he went to work in the treasurer's office. He served two terms as coroner starting in 1948 before becoming county clerk. Elected to that post in 1954, he served until 1970.

Clerks since that time have been Truman Gerretsen for one term, Grace Mary Stern for three terms and the present office holder now in her second term, Linda Hless.

That $50-per-person political fund raiser this month at Maravella's restaurant in Fox Lake for Secretary of State Jim Edgar was peanuts. So says Donna Litwiler of his Libertyville office and one of the local hosts.

She said a Cook County Republican fund raiser the same night was $100 a head. "Ours was an all-you-could eat buffet with an open bar," said said. "And the food was great. In Cook County the food is always bad and the bar is so crowded you can never get near it." Which one would you rather go to?

Democrats are gearing up for a party fight to pick the man who will run against Clinton Grinnell for sheriff in the fall election. No less than four people want the job.

They are John Hoff of Waukegan, operator of his own security service who is a former captain with the Waukegan Police Dept.; Stanley Skrypek of Mundelein, a Cook County Sheriff's Dept. inspector working out of the state's attorney's office in Chicago; Donald Mason of Lake Villa; and Sander Stagman of Highland Park. Mason and Stagman had a shot at the job once before.

When the Demos meet Wednesday, June 22, at the Cabriolet restaurant in Libertyville they will nominate someone to fill the unexpired two-year term of the late Robert "Mickey" Babcox.

Not everyone thinks the planned Gurnee Mills shopping plaza is the greatest thing since Lakehurst. John Balen of County Board Dist. 2 says this massive discount-shopping-center-under-one-roof will hurt existing retailers throughout the Waukegan area, including Lakehurst, and cost retail jobs. He points out that Robert Morrison, the man behind the Globe department store chain, found this out fast. From downtown Waukegan he moved to Lakehurst, left there and opened in Fox Lake, Antioch and N. Lewis Ave. in Waukegan.

Lining up with Balen are County Board members F.T. "Mike" Graham of Libertyville and C. Richard Anderson of North Barrington.

Western Development Corp. has lined up some rather impressive names to help bring the new mall to Gurnee. They include Lane Kendig, the guru of Lake County planning, who has been retained as a consultant, and Louis Masotti, professor of urban studies at Northwestern University. They say what is good for Gurnee is good for all of Lake County and northern Illinois. They're being paid to say that. Balen, Graham and Anderson are not.

Roland Burris

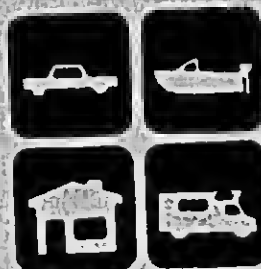

Grant Farrell

Democratic state representative candidate Grant B. Farrell of Antioch, who wants to unseat Republican congressman Robert Churchill in the next 62nd Dist. election, knows how to get publicity. He had his picture taken with state Comptroller Roland Burris, who said of Farrell: "His roots are deep in the soil of Lake County and has a working class background."

His campaign also lists some prominent people. State representatives John S. Matijevick of North Chicago and Mary Grace Stern of Highland Park are campaign co-chairman. Treasurer, campaign stationery says, is state Rep. Robert W. Furtkamp of the 62nd Dist. Who? You've heard of him before. He is Lake County Democratic Party treasurer. "That was a mistake on my part," Farrell said. "The stationery is being reprinted."

WHEN SHOULD YOU CALL A DOCTOR?

This article is third of a series dealing with commonly encountered first aid problems. Proper first aid administration and appropriate physician follow up are discussed. Today tips are given on broken bones, sprains and amputations.

Fractures (broken bones): Severe pain, swelling if deformity of an extremity following a trauma may indicate a broken bone. The person may have heard a bone snap, and may not be able to move the injured area.

The primary first aid goal is to immobilize the broken bone to prevent sliding and displacement. To decrease swelling, place ice packs on the injured area. If the bone protrudes through the skin, special care must be taken to prevent destruction of nerves, blood vessels or further lacerations by the broken bones.

To immobilize an extremity, making a padded splint by using whatever materials are available, such as boards or magazines. Suspected fractures require immediate attention from a physician for proper X-rays and setting.

Sprains: Swelling, tenderness and pain during general use of an extremity may indicate a sprain. Apply ice packs and elevate the extremity to reduce swelling.

Minor sprains do not require attention from a physician. Over-the-counter pain killers such as aspirin, acetaminophen (Tylenol) or anti-inflammatory ibuprofen (Advil or Medipren), can be taken. However, if significant pain and swelling are present, physician follow up is needed for X-rays and evaluation. Proper immobilization of the extremity may also be required.

Amputations: Primary objectives are wound management and preservation of the amputated body part. Perform wound care by applying direct pressure to stop bleeding.

Thoroughly cleanse with soap and water and cover with a sterile dressing. At the same time, wrap the severed extremity in a cold, wet cloth and place in a plastic bag. Place the bag on ice. Do not place the severed extremity directly on ice. This may damage the tissue.

Take the person and the properly preserved extremity to a hospital emergency room immediately.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Vernon Hills

Michael J. Lutz, 38, of Vernon Hills, has been named Director of Corporate Sales for Peepers Eyewear, a contemporary, state-of-the-art eyewear and eye store in the Chicago Board of Trade Annex Building, 141 W. Jackson Blvd. The announcement was made by Peepers Eyewear owner Paul Sussman. Lutz has more than 13 years business management experience, including responsibilities for administration, operations, sales forecasting and budgeting. Lutz comes to Peepers from Uhlemann Optical Co. in Skokie, where he had been Director of Operations, Training and Market Development. Earlier he was general manager at Precision Lens Crafters in Chicago, responsible for a staff of 30. At Peepers, Lutz will blend his talents with a staff determined to provide the best quality optical merchandise and service, all handled with contemporary flair. The store stocks more than 750 pairs of frames and specializes in an optical coating known as "Tradecoat", designed to cut down on glare and reflections, and make vision clearer for Peepers' computer and VDT screen-oriented customer base.

Barrington

The appointment of Robert R. Clifford as director, manufacturing for CAI Division of Recon/Optical, Inc., in Barrington, was announced by Robert P. Hansen, vice-president, manufacturing. In this position, Clifford is responsible for manufacturing, engineering, and production, including fabrication, assembly, and testing for CAI, the world's leading manufacturer of aerial tactical reconnaissance systems. Prior to joining CAI, Clifford was with Kollsman Division of Sequa Corporation since 1985 as director of manufacturing and test engineering. Earlier, he was with Kearfott Division of Singer Corporation as manager of industrial and production engineering and with Avco Systems as director of industrial engineering. Clifford is a member of the Institute of Industrial Engineers, the Computer and Automated Systems Association of the Society of Manufacturing Engineers, and the American Defense Preparedness Association.

Bi-State

Citing rapidly growing sales and seasonal demands, Gander Mountain has announced that it will be hiring 300 people before Labor Day. The national catalog merchandiser of outdoor sportsman's supplies has grown its annual net sales volume from $20 million in 1984, when the new management team purchased the firm, to $58 million last year. Gander management expects sales to approach $90 million at the end of this fiscal year, which ends June 30. Personnel at Gander has grown steadily from 184 in 1984 to 480 currently. "We have openings in our warehouse for merchandise picking, packing, and shipping. We also have openings in telephone sales, customer service and retail sales," said Personnel Manager Carol Schoenbeck. "We have full-time, part-time, seasonal and temporary positions available and we try to honor requests for specific hours." Ralph Freitag, chairman and president, said, "We are entering our peak season at the end of August and we expect sales to again be strong. Adding 300 part-time, temporary and full-time people is a reasonable estimate to meet our growth needs at this time."

Red Seal strives for quality County homes

Communities within Lake County have begun to allow controlled growth ensuring a balance between open space and development.

Mallard Ridge with its 5-1/2-acre park, green belts and passive open space, is an example of this type of well-organized growth.

"The north corridor has become an area of immense commercial development," said David Hoffman, president of Northbrook-based Red Seal. "And in the footsteps of that growth is the need to fulfill a variety of housing niches."

Gearing up for one of its largest projects ever, Red Seal will begin construction on Mallard Ridge, a 95-acre planned unit development (PUD) in Lindenhurst. Scheduled for a May groundbreaking, Lindenhurst's first major PUD, will be located east of Munn Road and north of Grand Avenue.

When completed, residences will include 122 single-family homes and 204 apartments. The commercial portion of the project will provide 140,000 square feet of retail space, and 36,000 square feet of office space.

In April 1986, Lindenhurst annexed 312 acres, making large amounts of land available for commercial and residential development.

"Lindenhurst, as well as other surrounding suburbs, has an exceptional location for growth because of its proximity to two major metropolitan areas," Hoffman said.

Situated between Chicago and Milwaukee, Lake County is at the center of a metropolitan area of 8 million people.

A 1980 census shows Lake County housing over 440,000 people, a number which is leap-frogging by approximately 6,000 people per year, according to the Lake County Economic Development Commission. Over 74,000 of those are residents of the northwest quarter of the county, living in 28,072 dwellings.

"We want to produce quality housing in Lake County's growing suburbs for markets whose needs aren't currently being met," Hoffman said. "At Mallard Ridge, for instance, we are building Lindenhurst's first apartment community. Now, people who want to rent there, can."

Red Seal, an active land developer and builder for 54 years, has undertaken residential and commercial projects located throughout the Chicago metropolitan areas.

Since their first undertaking, Red Seal has built approximately 426 homes in Lake County.

But, according to Hoffman, one of their most successful Lake County communities was Red Seal's recent Winchester Estates, introduced to Libertyville in 1986. This community of 91 four and five-bedroom, semi-custom homes, was so well-received that it sold out in less than one year.

"Since 1949 we've contributed not only quality homes to Lake County, but we've participated in helping several communities blossom," said Hoffman noting Libertyville, and Northbrook, a

David Hoffman

Cook County community, as prime examples.

"We enjoy watching villages grow to their fullest potential," Hoffman added. "With a multitude of communities offering prime land for growth in the Lake County region, we plan to continue development for many years to come."

Home Federal Savings adds two new members to staff

Home Federal Savings in Waukegan has announced the addition of two new members to its staff: Steven E. Stock has joined Home Federal Savings as senior vice-president and chief financial officer, while Barbara Mendez has come aboard as assistant vice-president in loan servicing and collections. The announcement was made by Richard Samuels, president of the $300 million institution.

Possessing extensive financial management experience in the savings and loan industry, Stock was the CFO for Uptown Federal Savings following its merger with Ben Franklin Savings and Palatine Savings. He spent two years with them as vice-president and treasurer, and two years as vice-president and controller with Horizon Federal Savings. Previously, he was an audit manager with Ernst and Whinney.

Stock, age 38, earned a bachelor's degree in accounting from Bradley University, Peoria. A resident of Northbrook, he received Illinois CPA certification, and is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Financial Managers Society for Savings Institutions.

Mendez has 10 years experience with Libertyville Federal Savings and Loan Assn., where she was assistant vice-president/manager of corporate lending, operations and corporate insurance manager. She also served as loan servicing supervisor and corporate secretary.

Mendez, 48, obtained her broker's license from the Insurance Institute, Chicago, and completed studies at the Institute of Financial Education and School for Executive Development. A resident of Mundelein, Mendez is a member of the Independent Insurance Agents Association.

CLC Dean publishes new book

The College of Lake County's dean of community education and contractual services has published a book titled "Doing Business With Business". Russell Hamm authored the handbook to assist community colleges in the design and implementation of economic development programs.

Hamm served as CLC's director of the center for economic development for its first five years, from 1982 to 1987. As one of the first economic development directors in the state, Hamm was elected the first president of the Illinois Association for Economic Development. His credentials and experience led to the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges request to write a "how-to" book for other educational institutions. The AACJC is the book's publisher.

"We do this well in Illinois," says Hamm about the community college's economic development efforts in the state.

The success of the Illinois program was documented by the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges and the Association of Community College Trustees. The 1988 Keeping America Working State Partnership Award was given to Illinois for its efforts to stimulate partnerships between business and community colleges.

Honored was the Illinois Statewide Business Center Network, comprised of business centers operated by all of Illinois' 39 community college districts. These centers provide customized job training, small business and entrepreneurship services, grant assistance to businesses, contract procurement assistance, and dislocated worker training.

Illinois Bell customers may see lower telephone rates

Illinois Bell customers in Lake County will see lower telephone bills beginning in July of the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) approves an $85 million cut in rates proposed by the company.

In addition, one-time customer refunds totalling about $35 million will appear on August bills if the company's proposal is approved.

The rate reduction and refunds were proposed to reflect changes in Illinois Bell's revenues and expenses resulting in part from the lower federal tax rate and reduced depreciation expense.

The $85 million reduction will appear on telephone bills as a credit each month, beginning in July, until the ICC acts on a plan the company will propose later this year to outline specific rate changes.

Business customers will receive a credit of $1.78 per line per month and residential customers will receive $1.03 per line per month.

"We agreed to an $85 million amount in discussions with the ICC staff, but we will seek to modify this later," said Fred K. Konrad, Illinois Bell assistant vice president for regulatory affairs. "We believe $85 million is too large for a permanent rate reduction."

"In our filing later this year," Konrad said, "we will present reasons why we believe the permanent rate reduction should be modified."

The one-time refund on August bills totalling about $35 million represents the amount the company had set aside for potential refund based on anticipated tax savings for the first half of this year.

Business customers will receive a refund of around $8 per telephone line while residential users will be refunded around $5 per line.

The one-time refund will come from a fund established in January by order of the ICC. That fund will be terminated once the refunds are granted.

New discount store coming to Round Lake Beach soon

Approximately 150 area residents will have new jobs when the Wal-Mart Discount department store opens in Round Lake Beach. Construction on the new store, located in the Mallard Creek Shopping Center at 700 East Rollins, is scheduled to be completed in late 1988.

Area residents, hired as Wal-Mart associates, will fill a variety of job positions including department managers, cashiers, sales clerks, receiving clerks, and office clerks.

In addition to offering associate jobs, the opening of the new Wal-Mart store will create local job opportunities in the construction and service industries. Other positive economic effects of the Wal-Mart opening in Round Lake Beach include increased retail traffic and increased sales tax revenue for the community. Last year, Wal-Mart stores accounted for $5,406,335 in sales tax

Children flying alone

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

It's the time of year when little Joey may take a plane trip by himself to Grandma's place in Florida, or it's little Mary's turn to spend the summer with Dad, who now lives in Houston. It is a time when children may have to fly alone.

Fortunately, the airlines are very experienced in transporting unaccompanied minors and are prepared to get this most precious cargo to their destination safe and happy. There are still some things you should know before you send your precious cargo on it's way.

While individual airlines differ in their policies, none will accept unaccompanied children under the age of five.

Children five through seven years may be accepted on a non-stop, or "through" flight. (One that makes a stop, but there is no change of planes.) A responsible adult must stay with the child until boarded and another adult must meet the child at the destination. The person meeting the child must show identification that he is the person named on a travel card issued by the airline as the person to whom the child may be released. The airlines are very strict about this.

Children eight through eleven may be accepted on connecting flights as well as non-stops. The same rules apply as to an adult putting the child on the plane and one meeting him at his destination. An airline official will assist the child in making the connection.

Unaccompanied children ages 12 through 15 will receive assistance in making connections, but need not carry a travel card.

Visit the airport before the trip. Point out ticket counters and airline personnel where he can get help if needed.

Check your child's ticket to make sure all flight information is correct. Some cities have more than one airport. You wouldn't want Grandma to be waiting at Long Beach and little Joey to arrive at Orange County!

If assistance is needed, tell your child to seek help only from uniformed airport personnel or go to any ticket counter for help. He should not wait in line.

Air travel is still the safest mode of transportation. By following these few tips, you can be assured of a smooth first flight for our future frequent flyers.

Small business center helps dentist launch project

Nearly 15 years ago, a Highland Park dentist looking for a better way to clean teeth hit on the idea of developing a mini-vacuum that would lift debris from the teeth.

With some assistance from the College of Lake County and the manufacturing expertise of a Libertyville firm, Dr. Paul Barclay has seen his idea become a reality and will soon attempt to market his new product, called the "Plak Vak." If it takes off, it could revolutionize self-care dental hygiene.

"It's very difficult to get people to clean their teeth properly," Barclay, a practicing dentist since 1949 with an office in Chicago, "With traditional teeth cleaning methods, plaque and other debris is simply rearranged within the mouth. With the Plak Vak, all of that is completely removed from the environment."

He added that the product can remove even microscopic particles from hard-to-reach areas such as the back of the teeth, between teeth and around the gums. Barclay says the method is so effective that it renders toothbrushes and toothpaste unnecessary.

After years of research, Dr. Barclay sought assistance last fall from the College of Lake County Small Business Development Center, where SBDC Director Art Cobb counseled him on the steps he needed to take to pursue manufacturing. (The product is now being manufactured by Piper Plastics in Libertyville.) Cobb also worked with Barclay setting up a business and marketing plan.

Barclay credits CLC's Small Business Development Center for providing direction and guidance for his project.

Survey shows area businesses plan expansion for '88

Nearly one-third (31 percent) of owners and managers of Chicago-area industrial firms polled in a new survey said their companies plan to expand in 1988 by either adding on or moving to a larger facility.

In addition, more than three-quarters (77 percent) of the 100 respondents indicated they would move ahead with expansion plans regardless of any changes in the economy or in interest rates.

Of the firms planning to increase their Illinois operations, 57 percent will add on to their present facility while 43 percent will move to a larger building. When the firms do expand, many will do it in a big way—48 percent of the business managers said their companies will increase the size of their facilities by at least 50 percent. Seventy-one percent of those planning to move said their company will purchase a building, 29 percent will lease.

The mail survey, sponsored by Paine/Wetzel Assn., Inc., a leading Chicago industrial real estate brokerage, polled a cross section of business owners and managers from firms occupying industrial buildings between 25,000 and 75,000 sq. ft. in the six-county Chicago metropolitan region.

Among the survey's major findings regarding the U.S. economy: 49 percent of the executives said the economy would expand while 35 percent predicted no change and 4 percent felt a recession was in the offing; 40 percent said an increase in inflation will occur; 82 percent of the executives feel interest rates will rise in the next six months. Of those, 44 percent believe the increase will be as much as one percentage point; an equal percentage (44 percent) estimate a hike of between one and two points.

Richard A. Gillette, vice president-administration, Paine/Wetzel, said, "The survey results project an upbeat tenor among Chicagoland industrial people. In addition, the high percentage of firms planning to purchase buildings show a strong level of confidence in real estate."

Gillette said while the survey was designed to maintain confidentiality, more than 58 percent voluntarily identified themselves to obtain the results, indicating a great deal of interest in gaining economic information.

Paine/Wetzel Associates Inc., Chicago, is a full-service real estate firm providing brokerage services.

Expanded office space

Benchmark Display Inc., of Prospect Heights has broken ground for 32,000 square foot office in Corporate Woods, Vernon Hills. New office for designer of custom point of purchase displays is expected to be completed late this year.

Benchmark breaks ground on new Corporate Woods office

Benchmark Display Inc., of Prospect Heights has broken ground on new office space in Corporate Woods, Vernon Hills.

The designer of custom point of purchase displays is moving to a 4.11 acre site being developed by Van Vlissingen and Co. of Lincolnshire.

"Benchmark will occupy 32,000 square feet allowing us to significantly increase our design and model shop, to occupy more efficient warehouse space and to increase our administrative area," explained Jim Krebs, Benchmark president.

The architects for the project are Thelander Nelson and Associates of Lincolnshire. The new space is expected to be completed late this year.

"The new building was designed specifically to augment our work flow. The bi-level design department features a sloping skylight to provide natural light on both levels," explained Krebs.

Benchmark was founded in 1974 by Krebs; Mike Glisch, executive vice president and Tom Harwick, vice president of engineering. The firm presently employs 50 and expects to increase its employment 50 percent by Spring, 1989.

"Recently, we have experienced a growth in our company which necessitated additional and more functional space," said Krebs. "We selected the Corporate Woods development because it had the feeling of the overall development. The natural park-like setting gives a more relaxed background for conducting business that demands prompt and accurate solutions to tough marketing problems. We are looking forward to working in a building designed strictly to our needs."

Aspartame OK for new uses

NutraSweet Co., Deerfield, announced that the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has approved the use of aspartame, the sweetener marketed as NutraSweet brand sweetener in six new categories.

Products that NutraSweet now can be used in are: yogurt-type products, refrigerated flavored milk beverages, ready-to-serve nonrefrigerated, pasteurized, aseptically packaged diluted fruit juice beverages, refrigerated ready-to-serve gelatin desserts, fruit (including grape) wine beverages (coolers) containing less than 7 percent alcohol.

Safety Diagnostics develops AIDS test

A blood extraction system that may have broad applications for the diagnosis of AIDS and other diseases is being developed by a local business. The development of prototype Painless Invisible Needle System Extractor Test (PINSET) is underway at Waukegan-based Safety Diagnostics, Inc.

The new device, which painlessly nicks the skin to collect a small amount of blood from surface veins, is a safer, minimally invasive blood sampling system. It could prove especially useful in diagnostic procedures for which only small samples are needed.

The College of Lake County Small Business Development Center assisted the local firm in preparation of a business development plan and in finding sources of ven-

DOES SOMEONE HAVE YOUR NUMBER?

By Conrad Meier
MEIER INSURANCE SERVICES

YOU SHOULD KNOW...that in our computerized society, numbers—account numbers; policy numbers, Social Security numbers—are an important fact of financial life.

Yes, they are cold and impersonal. Yes, they are here to stay. Most likely they will become even more essential as we close out the 20th century.

Therefore, it is wise to take an "Estate Planner's" approach to creating and maintaining a list of financial numbers.

First, file a copy of your list with your insurance broker, your attorney, accountant and/or a trusted relative. Such a list can be included with your will.

Then, in case of an emergency, it will be available all in one place. As circumstances change, update your file.

Your list of numbers should include the following:
**Bank Accounts, along with the name and phone number of the bank;

**IRA-Keogh-Retirement plan account numbers with name and phone number of the account custodian;

**Credit card numbers;

**Social Security numbers of each family member;

**Your driver's license number;

**Insurance policy numbers—for life, health, disability, long term medical care, auto and home insurance, along with names and phone numbers of the companies.

**Investment contracts, with name and phone number of your brokerage firm.

**A list of professional names (lawyer, insurance broker, etc) with phone numbers.

A little preparation now can avoid a lot of hassle and expense later.

We thought you should know.

Lakeland Newspapers Lake County At A Glance

Water's Edge on water

LAKE VILLA—Third and final building at Water's Edge, the 108-unit luxury apartment complex rising on the south shore of Deep Lake, is being constructed between 10 and 12 feet from the shoreline, not the 20 feet required in plans approved last year by the village, say residents of adjoining Deep Lake Shores subdivision. The village is checking. James Follensbee, spokesman for the developers, said the building is correctly positioned according to a benchmark survey from the centerline of nearby Grand Ave. He said the shoreline changes with the rise and fall of the water level, pointing out that the lake is currently at a high level.

Chamber quits enmasse

LAKE VILLA—All members of the Lake Villa Chamber of Commerce except the treasurer resigned or threatened to due, in part, to lack of volunteer support from other members. A special meeting was called for this week to convince the officers to remain or elect new ones. Submitting his resignation is President Gus Marchetti, who said Secretary Gloria Hopkins also wanted to resign. Vice President Jim Ratajczyk also resigned.

Antioch, RV Boat Show

ANTIOCH — The annual Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry's RV, Boat and Auto Show will be held in the Antioch High School parking lot on the last weekend in June. This year the show will run from 4 to 9 p.m., on Friday, June 24; from 11 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., on Saturday, June 25 and on Sunday, June 26, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission and parking is free. Live entertainment and refreshments will be available for those perusing the vehicles on display.

Open water ban door

MUNDELEIN—Village of Mundelein trustees have authorized the mayor and village staff to impose sprinkling restrictions, including a ban, if the current drought continues, making village water conservation necessary. Mundelein Mayor Colin McKee was quoted as saying, "Our water resources have held out. However, we don't know what the weather will be like in the future."

Project wins approval

GRAYSLAKE—The Grayslake Zoning Board of Appeals has given its approval to a planned apartment and office complex by John Waldenstrom. The board, while giving its approval, did give its concerns as well.

Cedar Lake Rd. work

Cedar Lake Rd. will be improved to five lanes at the intersection with Rollins Rd. with modifications to existing traffic signals and other work at a cost estimated to be $235,000 appropriated by the County Board of Supervisors.

Village battles Com-Ed

SPRING GROVE—Plans for a municipal electric system are being considered by trustees. A consultant has recommended several possible ways to combat rising costs and increase dependability. They are creating a local utility, buying electricity from Commonwealth-Edison Co. and reselling it to customers; buy power from utilities in Wisconsin and resell it locally; or continue relying on Com-Ed at current rates. The study was underwritten by Intermet Inc., Scot Forge Co. and Forms Corp., all of which are concerned with rising costs, brownouts and blackouts. Com-Ed officials dispute the potential savings of $72,000 per year.

No sprinkling ban

LINDENHURST—With seven wells and two elevated storage tanks the village is not considering a ban on sprinkling or outdoor water use. Since the current drought started water use has tripled from an average of 450,000 gallons per day to 1.3 million gallons daily, says village Engineer John Heinz. He said this volume is for a village of 23,000 population instead of 7,000 plus. What might lead to a ban is continued decline in the underground vein from which Lake Villa, Antioch, farmers and private homes in the area also draw their water.

Lake levels fall

CHAIN O' LAKES—Level of the Chain O' Lakes is almost four inches below its normal level for this time of the year, according to Frank Novak, lock and dam supervisor at the McHenry Lock and Dam. The current level of 736.7 inches above sea level is more like July and August than June. This means more people are "chewing up" propellers and hitting sandbars or submerged objects, Novak said. If the U.S. Weather Service prediction comes true of above-average temperatures and below-normal precipitation, Novak said boaters may voluntarily curtail their outings to save the time and cost of a new propeller or boat repair. The current spell of ideal boating weather has led more people than ever to use the Chain O' Lakes, Novak said. All of which could mean a banner year for tourism in this part of the state.

Village may recycle

LAKE ZURICH—Recycling of garbage is being considered in Ela Twp. Supv. Robert Grever has been authorized to file an application with the state for a matching grant to begin a pilot program. The state has $150,000 for this purpose and already received 300 applications.

Parade packs day

ROUND LAKE—A Saturday parade, June 18, officially starting off the 61st Annual Round Lake Fireman's Day, at 12 noon, will have 25-year firefighter George Secor as Grand Marshall, accompanied by his wife Gloria. The full day's festivities will start with water-fight sign-ups at the main fire station, on Cedar Lake Rd., just off Rollins Rd., at 11:30 a.m. Then, the parade will step-off at Eagle Creek Plaza, at noon, and continue south on Cedar Lake Rd. to the main fire station, where the rest of the packed day's festivities will occur.

Hunt Club Rd. work

Hunt Club Rd. will be widened and resurfaced its intersection with Rte. 120 to provide turn lanes on Hunt Club Rd. and both left- and right-hand turn lanes on Rte. 120 with accommodations for a future traffic signal at a cost of $330,000.

New extension officers

Newly-elected officers of the Lake County Homemakers Extension Assn. assumed office earlier this month. They are, from left, listening to President Caryl Johnson of Barrington, Secretary Irene Seeberg of Gurnee; Catherine Gourley of Zion, chairman of cultural arts; Mary Lester of Wadsworth, public information chairman; Grace Weathers of Lake Villa, citizenship and safety chairman and Shirley Vanko of Mundelein, hospitality chairman. Absent from picture is Sandra Inglis of Wadsworth, second vice chairman.

Water company fined

ISLAND LAKE—After waiting more than one year, Mrs. Marva Sanchez, who sued the Island Lake Water Co. has received an answer. The Illinois Pollution Control board has found the company guilty of violating the "finished water quality act", assessed a $1,000 fine and ordered it to cease and desist from further violations within 35 days.

Study water cost

NORTH CHICAGO—The Water Committee of the North Chicago City Council learned that it will cost the city $8.5 million to upgrade the water plant, pay for its share of the new library and fire station. The city council is considering issuing a general obligation bond to pay for the first stage.

White House recognition

PRAIRIE VIEW—Adlai E. Stevenson High School was commended by First Lady Nancy Reagan for its role in fighting alcohol and drug abuse by holding an alcohol and drug-free party for graduating seniors. The party was attended by 80 percent of the graduating class of 1988 and lasted into the following morning. A great, sober time was had by all.

Mills gains sewer

GURNEE—Gurnee Mayor Dick Welton signed an agreement which involves Western Development Corp. and Lake County concerning the proposed Gurnee Mills shopping center. Also on Monday, the Lake County Board approved a boundary which gives Gurnee Mills sewer service.

Vandalize Shady Lane

FOX LAKE—Eight classrooms at Shady Lane School were vandalized last Sunday evening when between three and four youths broke into the building through a basement window. They used a hammer to break windows inside the school and in doors, threw art paint on walls and floors, dumped glue bottles on the floor and emptied all fire extinguishers in the school. Damage to eight classrooms and hallways was still being calculated this week, but could run into the "thousands of dollars" said Principal William Stegman. The cleanup is compounded by the layoff of all but one custodian due to budget cutbacks.

The weddings of the eighties:

The bride of today knows what she wants. Whether she walks down a long aisle in an antique Victorian gown, or is married in a tailored suit of her favorite color, she is planning her wedding at a time when couples are expressing whom they are by the way in which they choose to celebrate their marriage.

The weddings of the '80s are unique in that, although there is a trend toward the traditional, at the same time there is a strong tendency to cast convention aside.

It is no longer unusual, for instance, for a bride, being married for the first time at the age of 35, to opt for the large traditional ceremony and long white gown that were once considered appropriate only for a much younger woman.

But today's bride often comes to her marriage with many years of education and career behind her. A lot more savvy and sophisticated than a young bride of 21, her tastes are more mature and her direction more defined.

She may be an investment banker, a doctor, or head of her own small business. But whatever her career goals may be, they are most likely as important a consideration in the marriage as those of her husband.

While it is an advantage to have more defined goals before marriage, so that both people have a clearer sense of whom they are and what their needs may be, at the same time, it means that there may be a greater need for compromise.

If it is a two career marriage, chores will need to be shared and perhaps an extra effort made to spend quality time together despite two often- hectic schedules.

It is less and less likely that the bride of today will marry the boy next door, or even a boy from the same town, as was the norm in the past. For, as the average age of brides increases steadily, it is more and more probable that she will meet her husband at college or on the job.

Chances are she's from Iowa and he's from California, an increasingly common situation which has brought about innovative ideas in wedding planning, such as the weekend wedding. At this sort of wedding, events such as barbecues and sightseeing trips are planned for guests who travel from near and far to celebrate with the bride and groom for an entire weekend!

What this says about the new trend in weddings for the '80s is that more than ever before they are a personal reflection of whom the bride and groom really are, reflecting their tastes, attitudes and dreams.

Today, whether the couple is 19 or 45, there is a new confidence, freedom and ease in the way in which they choose to celebrate their marriage.

Whether it's a large, formal, traditional wedding, an outdoor picnic wedding in the country, a small intimate ceremony followed by cocktails and elegant hors d'oeuvre, or a big weekend bash, today the choices are endless.

What this means is that, with the freedom of expression and the unlimited imaginativeness that characterizes the marriages of the '80s, today the wedding of your dreams is more possible than ever before.

New tier cake set is designed for today's smaller weddings

Many contemporary brides prefer smaller weddings that they plan themselves—with weddings and receptions often held at home.

A BEAUTIFUL CAKE, perfect for smaller weddings, is easy to make and assemble using two boxes of cake mix and the new Tier Pan Set.

From the flowers to the decorations to the food, these brides add a personal touch and save money by arranging the wedding with the help of family and friends.

In response to this trend, Wilton Enterprises, Inc., the leading supplier of cake decorating equipment, has introduced an easy to use Tier-Pan Set perfect for smaller wedding cakes.

The set, which includes pillars, separator plates and pans, is designed to make a cake just right for a wedding of about 30 people.

Because the kit has all the equipment and simple step-by-step instructions, anyone can create this special wedding cake without prior baking experience.

The bride, a friend or a family member can bake the cake using two mixes or a double batch cake recipe. It can be made up to a month in advance and frozen until a day or two before the wedding.

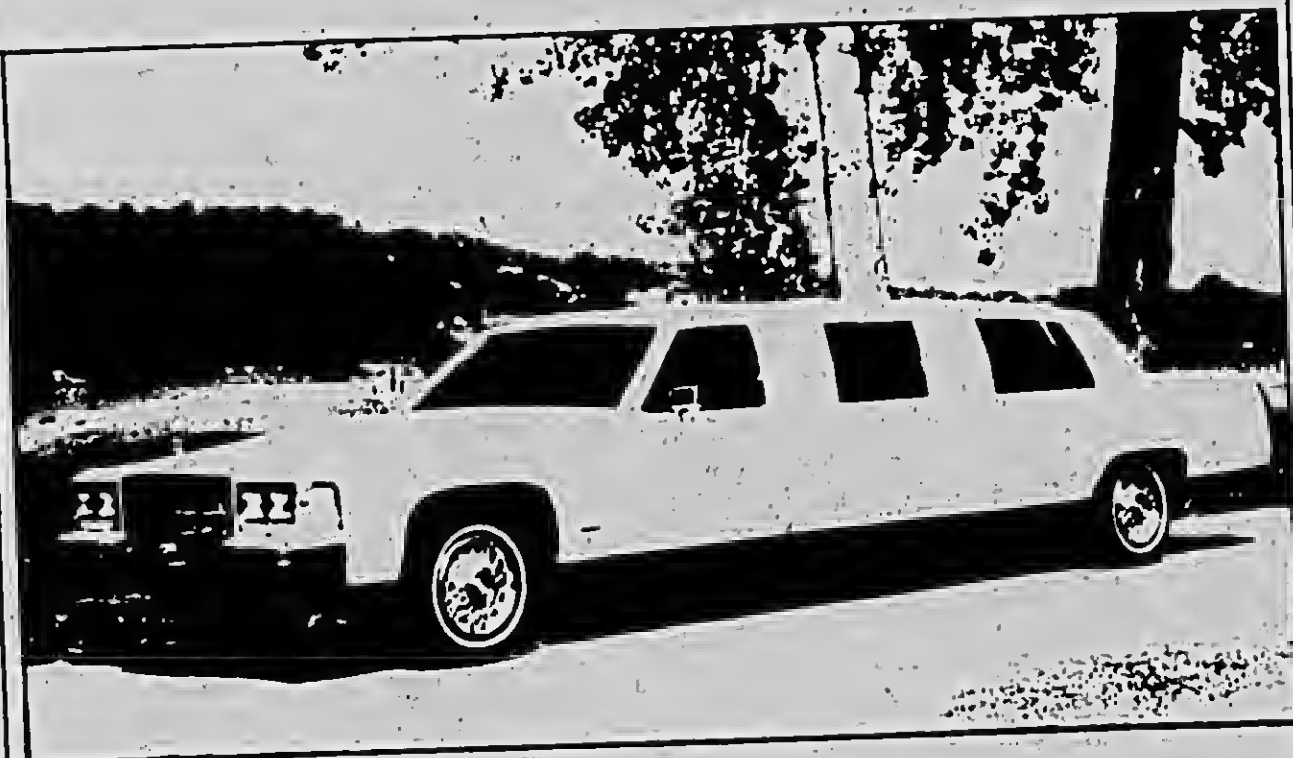

Then it can be iced and decorated with flowers, borders and a wedding cake topper. Final assembly of the tiers should be done at the reception site.

Tier cakes are perfect for many other occasions, too. Instructions for decorating special anniversary cakes, festive children's birthday cakes and others are included in the kit.

The kit costs $21.99 and is available at local department and discount stores, cake decorating shops, or directly from Wilton Enterprises, Woodridge, IL 60517.

Pocono honeymoon: A happy tradition

Whatever the season... whatever the weather... it's always fair sailing and blue skies for the honeymooners who make their way each year to the Pocono Mountains of Northeastern Pennsylvania.

A honeymoon "mecca" for over 40 years, the Pocono honeymoon resorts offer a unique honeymoon experience. Here couples are surrounded by their peers—other couples of varying ages beginning their lives together.

The companionship of other couples is available for those who want it, and complete seclusion is another alternative, depending upon the tastes of the couples.

The Pocono honeymoon resorts are known especially for their luxurious and elegant rooms—the in-room swimming pools, heart-shaped and champagne glass tubs and whirlpools, the three-tiered suites with round and king-sized and canopied beds. Whatever your decor preference, it can be found here.

And the resorts are known for the pampering care they take of their couples; after all, over 40 years of catering to newlyweds makes them rather expert at what they do.

They are known for their outstanding cuisine, and the variety offered throughout the week and on weekends in entertainment featured nightly—hands for dancing, comedians, belly dancers, newlywed games, singers, duos, trios... you name it.

One of the most important things the Pocono honeymoon resorts are known for is their one-price-pays-all package. Rates vary according to type of accommodation chosen, but everything is included—all of the food, the entertainment, the myriad of sports that are offered on premises.

In the winter months, there is skiing (nearby), as well as sledding, tobogganing, snowmobiling, horseback riding, archery and more.

During the spring, summer and fall, there is an emphasis on water sports: Boating, waterskiing, swimming, parasailing, fishing.

The resorts are equipped with so many indoor facilities that the couple never runs out of diversions—racquetball, indoor tennis, shooting ranges, bowling, indoor mini golf, archery and game rooms.

For serious-minded golfers, there are some of the finest golf courses in the East located minutes away.

It's best to make reservations for the Pocono honeymoon resorts well ahead of time in order to reserve the accommodation of your choice.

A COUPLE visiting one of the Pocono honeymoon resorts opts for a quiet and romantic picnic supper by the side of a picturesque mountain lake. What could be a better setting in which to begin to get to know one another better?

Lustrous pearls, symbol of love

One of the most memorable moments in a woman's life will certainly be her wedding day. And on that day everything has to be just right.

From the wedding gown to the bridal bouquet and right down to the jewelry that the bride will wear, it all has to come together to create a lasting image of happiness and perfection.

Cultured pearls, the gem for all occasions, are perfectly suited for the rites of holy matrimony. Since the beginning of history, pearls have always been linked to the virtues of love, beauty and devotion. And, not surprisingly, they have become an indispensable part of a bride's ensemble.

A gift of pearls to be worn on the wedding day is traditionally bestowed upon the bride by her parents. Culminating years of love and pride, it is gift given from the heart with hopes of good fortune and happiness in the years to come.

Choosing the perfect strand and style of pearls for the bride can be easy if you take into consideration the style of gown to be worn and her skin tone. Usually, with the popular off-the-shoulder and boat neck gowns, one to three strand princess or choker length necklaces create a dramatic effect.

With a high collar, a longer matinee length or an opera length will be more flattering. And for scoop neck fashions, a three strand dog collar is simply stunning.

As far as color is concerned, women with lighter hair and fair complexions seem to favor cultured pearls with a slight rose tint, while creamy white shaded pearls complement darker hair and skin tones.

Radiant, glowing complexion reflects inner happiness

Your wedding day, the one you've dreamed of since you were a little girl, is just a few weeks away. You've bought your wedding gown, the most beautiful dress you've ever owned, and a romantic veil that frames your face. Everything should be perfect!

But, comes the actual day of your wedding, and... horrors! Your skin looks drawn and gray, the result of months of stress and strain that have gone into planning the wedding event.

How can you make sure this doesn't happen to you?

The time to start is right now, weeks or even months before the wedding day, advise the skin care experts at the E.E. Dickinson Witch Hazel Company.

To turn your skin into a radiant, glowing reflection of your inner happiness, you must find time every day to pamper your face and body with a good skin care regimen that nourishes and cleanses both inside and out.

Here's how:

1. Diet: Be sure to include lots of vegetables, fish and whole grains in your diet. Drink at least six to eight glasses of water a day to cleanse your system and to help clarify your skin.

3. Minimize Stress: Try to relax as much as possible by giving yourself time alone to listen to music, read, exercise or simply unwind.

3. Cleansing (Daily): Cleanse your face at least twice a day by washing with a mild soap and water, then use Dickinson's Concentrated Witch Hazel Pads to remove remaining traces of makeup and soap residue.

After your bath or shower, a splash of witch hazel liquid helps tone your skin all over. Witch hazel is a mild, non-drying astringent that can be used as often as you like without fear of irritation.

4. Cleansing (Once a Week): Once a week, use an exfoliator such as cleansing grains or a mild, herbal mask to remove deep down dirt. Follow with an application of witch hazel to soothe and smooth the skin.

5. Moisturize: Use a moisturizer every time you cleanse your face. For daytime cleansing, follow up with a light moisturizer. Before going to bed, use a richer variety.

When using a body moisturizer, try smoothing it on after you bathe or shower so that the warmth of your skin and steam from the shower can help the lotion to penetrate.

6. Stay Out of the Sun: If you must sunbathe, remember to apply a lotion that contains a SPF of at least 15. If you plan on spending a lot of time outdoors in sunny areas, wear a hat with a large brim to keep your face in the shade.

By devoting just a few minutes each day to "romancing" your skin, you can be sure you'll present the perfect picture of a happy, glowing bride that looks as beautiful as she feels.

MAKE SURE your face reflects your loquacious on your wedding day—start pampering your skin now!

Stage Company to produce 2 plays

The Illinois Stage Company of Northern Illinois University presents its most ambitious summer season to date. The company will produce two shows at the beautiful Woodstock Opera House during July.

The mad, murder-mystery musical "Something's Afoot" will open the 1988 season July 1, 2, 3 and July 6, 7, 8, 9, 10. The musical will play Wednesday through Saturday at 8 p.m., Sundays at 3 p.m., with a matinee on Saturday, July 9 at 2 p.m.

A zany, entertaining show that takes a positively delightful satirical stab at Agatha Christie and the musical styles of her era.

"Something's Afoot" is directed by Sara Gabel, head of the acting program at NIU and director of last season's production "The Foreigner".

The second production of the 1988 season will be the acclaimed farce of Brandon Thomas, "Charley's Aunt" July 14, 15, 16, 17 and July 21, 22, 23, 24. Thursday through Saturday at 8 p.m., Sundays at 3 p.m., with a matinee Saturday, July 23 at 2 p.m.

The Illinois Stage Company is proud to have James O'Reilly returning to direct "Charley's Aunt".

Tickets may be purchased by calling the Woodstock Opera House Box Office at (815) 338-5300 or by calling Ticketron in Illinois at (312) 853-3636 in Wisconsin

Fair seeking lots of amateur talented kids

The 1988 Lake County Fair Amateur Talent Contest will be bigger and better than ever! Once again the "Finals" will be the major entertainment attraction on the mainstage at the fair.

But help is needed! Anyone who knows friends or students who would enjoy the fun, competition and rewards of entering the contest should pass along the invitation to any interested Lake County talent.

The competition occurs in two student divisions, junior (through 14 years of age) and senior (15 through 21 years of age); and an adult division for amateur performers 22 years old and up.

Entries may include any type of talent; instrumental, vocal, dance, comedy, magic or whatever. Solo and group entries will compete in the same program.

Preliminary contests will be held on Saturday and Sunday, July 23rd and 24th at the Lake County Fairgrounds. Ten finalists will be chosen in each division. These finalists will then perform in final competition on July 28, 29 or 30 on the mainstage at the Lake County Fair.

Junior and senior division winners will represent Lake County in the State competition in Springfield on Jan. 21, 1989.

2 girls make a big difference

Substance abuse is one of the leading problems facing the country today. It concerns everyone—even the nation's young people.

Two of those concerned youngsters are Antioch's Alexandra Arnold and Jo-Ann Dillard.

Classmates in John Piet's sixth grade class at Grass Lake School, the girls do not have a "Just Say No" club at their school. So they started their own club. Their purpose was to raise money to donate to area organizations.

At the club's first meeting, Arnold and Dillard chose Victory Memorial Hospital's new Adolescent Chemical Dependency Programs unit, 1324 N. Sheridan Rd., Waukegan, to receive their funds.

Calling themselves "Just Say No", the sixth graders worked on a variety of money-making projects. They sold lemonade, washed neighbor's cars, made Mother's Day crafts, sold a poster and solicited donations. The pair raised $30.

"Alexandra and Jo-Ann took it upon themselves to solicit contributions for a worthy cause. Their interest and enthusiasm represents the type of community support so necessary to the success of a program," said Alison Oliver, C.S.A.C., community services coordinator for the Victory Adolescent Chemical Dependency Programs.

Oliver offered the girls and their families an opportunity to see what their donation is helping to fund. They toured the Adolescent Chemical Dependency Programs unit with Oliver. During their tour, the girls met Terry Strickland, program director for the unit and learned from hospital staff what is involved in the treatment of the disease of chemical dependency.

The Adolescent Chemical Dependency Programs are designed to treat 11- to 18-year-olds with dependency problems. There are both outpatient programs and an 18-bed inpatient program. Arnold is the daughter of Tom and Sue

300-year-old tree filled with memories

by JOSEPH SOULAK

Lots of birthday parties, anniversaries, weddings and glasses of summertime iced lemonade have been enjoyed under the backyard tree of Joseph Nader. Living at 17 W. Grand Ave., Lake Villa, since 1921 the tree has given him cooling breezes for 67 summers, bird nests each spring, squirrels every fall and wintering birds when the snow flies. "It's also given me lots of enjoyment," Nader said of the majestic, sprawling tree that fills the view from the kitchen window.

Nader is proud of the tree. Rightfully so. He says it is not only big and beautiful, it is old—between 250 and 300 years old to be more precise. "No, I don't have a birth certificate for it," the 82-year-old Nader said of the tree. "I've sort of guesstimated. I came to Lake Villa in 1906 and picked berries near the tree. It was huge then," he said of the large limbs and massive trunk leading to a cascade of green leaves above.

The tree continues growing and getting larger each year. Circumference the last time Nader measured in 1986 was 123 inches. It has a span of 80 feet and an estimated height of 85 feet.

Last fall the towering, majestic black oak yielded 11 bushel of acorns. Nader stored them in his garage and fed them to neighborhood squirrels through the winter and spring.

Until a few years ago there was a rope swing on one of the larger branches. It provided plenty of fun for the three Nader children and 10 grandchildren. There also was a ladder for children to use in reaching the lower branches so they could climb the tree, but it was taken down long ago.

Some days Nader sits under the tree to reminisce about the family parties, celebrations and observances held there. "There are lots of memories here," he said. "It's a tree of a lifetime."

Ravinia's engagement of the Montreal Symphony Orchestra (Orchestre symphonique de Montreal) to open the

Top Christian rock band coming to fairgrounds

PETRA, America's favorite christian rock band, will be in concert on Saturday, July 2 at the Cornerstone Festival located at the Lake County Fairgrounds in Grayslake, at 8:30 p.m. For ticket information call (312)989-6330.

PETRA is currently on tour in support of their 10th album "This Means War!" which is being heralded as one of christian music's most significant releases in recent years. The album shot straight to the top of the nation's sales chart within five weeks of its release.

The singles "This Means War!" and "Don't Let Your Heart Be Hardened" also reached number one on three of MusicLine's four airplay charts.

Topping the album sales chart and three airplay charts has not been accomplished since Amy Grant's "Age to Age" album hit those number one spots five years ago.

The album and tour of "This Means War!" continues PETRA's move back to a harder edged rock sound, featuring Bob Hartman's guitars and the lead vocals of former Head East lead singer, John Schlitt.

The effort includes distribution of devotions, youth groups praying for one another across the nation, and PETRA prayer rallies before concerts. The "This Means War!" tour is uniting youth and as a result is a record-breaking success with concert after concert being sold out.

Limited to 10 students, the barefoot clinic offers skiers interested in learning to barefoot and those who have some barefoot experience an opportunity to get started correctly early in the season. The registration fee for the full day clinic is a nominal $100., including a $50 deposit to hold reservations.

Owned and operated by championship skier, show judge and popular ski show performer, Roger Kring, of Wonder Lake, the Water Skiing Centers were developed to provide a positive atmosphere in which beginners might learn to ski, and to assist experienced skiers with advanced skill development.

A number of special events will be scheduled throughout the season.

Houdini's back helping magician

by TOM WITOM

Before you could say abracadabra, John Giovanni, magician par excellence, has done it again: freed himself from a straight jacket or somehow slipped out of his restraints.

The Victory Gardens audience attending James Sherman's "The Escape Artist" is treated to several well-executed examples of legerdemain.

As the play reveals, unexplainable effects are mere illusion: Giovanni, played superbly by Sherman himself, is really trapped in his personal life.

A consummate playboy who has known countless women, he still finds the thought of commitment as frightening as the idea of going through life faithful to a single person. He has found that quantity is no match for quality (I'm still looking for real magic in a relationship.)

That may not be a weighty artifice on which to fashion a play, but many with far less substance have come to the stage.

Eventually, Giovanni, alias John Ginsberg, must come to terms and make some serious decisions. Ellen, played forcefully by Petrea Burchard, prompts the footloose magician to take stock.

An interesting secondary theme further enlivens the play in the form of a reincarnated Harry Houdini, the old master himself. Guy Barile handles the difficult role with aplomb, even though he's saddled with some mundane lines.

Houdini has chosen to return to Earth to share his professional secrets with Giovanni, although he ends up coaching him in his personal life as well. Even when others are onstage, it's only Giovanni who can see his tuxedo-clad mentor.

"The Escape Artist" is scheduled to run through July 10.

Petrea Burchard, Anna Markin

Calligraphy: Let it enhance your wedding style

There will be plenty of weddings this year, over 2.5 million by some reports. They will be traditional church weddings, afternoon garden affairs and new wave happenings.

No matter the style, in keeping with formal etiquette, most of the invitation envelopes will be hand-addressed and hand-stamped; most thank-you notes will be handwritten.

And, in keeping with today's modern approach to equality of the sexes, the bride and groom often will share in this responsibility.

But what do you do if you both have awful handwriting, hate to write notes, and think maybe etiquette expert Amy Vanderbilt was much too rigid when she suggested the handwriting be in a rounded, clear, English style affected by social secretaries?

"Consider calligraphy," says Ken Brown, a self-taught calligraphy expert and spokesperson for SPEEDBALL® Elegant Writer™ markers and kits. "It is a distinctive way to enhance a wedding celebration."

Calligraphy, derived from the Greek word kalligraphia, means beautiful writing. It is an ancient art form created from the first Roman alphabets, and further developed and refined in the Middle Ages.

Monks and scribes used calligraphy to produce Bibles and manuscripts. Today, it lends a special style to handwritten messages of all kinds.

Although the elegant, flowing lines of this distinctive writing form may seem complicated to master, the basic techniques used to produce a calligraphic alphabet are easy to learn, assures Brown. And you do not need good handwriting or artistic talent to become a good calligrapher, according to Brown.

"Calligraphy is an acquired skill that requires no experience, prior training or artistic talent," he says.

"With quality materials, easy-to-follow instructions, and practice, the bride-to-be and groom-to-be can give their wedding invitations and thank-you notes a very special signature in just a matter of weeks," says Brown.

Brown has developed 14 basic calligraphy pen strokes that create all the letters in the alphabet. His simple rules relating to hand and pen positions help the beginner quickly and easily create the graceful letters.

"When forming calligraphic letters, the writer pulls the nib pen instead of pushing it as with a writing pen," he says. "Therefore, the pen and hand positions are very important."

"The angle of the pen point, the hand position and the pen position are what enable the writer to form the correct letter strokes almost immediately," he adds.

How does the beginner become a seasoned calligrapher in time to address wedding invitations and write thank-you notes? Brown suggests that you allow six to eight weeks to learn the basic calligraphy strokes.

"With practice, the repetitive formation of these common elements makes every character easy to do," he says.

"It is best to practice regularly, but for short periods of time," suggests Brown. "That way, you will be fresh and relaxed—two key factors in producing a consistent, flowing style."

There is a wide variety of high quality materials and kits available, at all price ranges, to help the beginner learn calligraphy, says Brown.

For the novice, he recommends the SPEEDBALL® Elegant Writer calligraphy kit from Hunt Manufacturing Co.

The kit includes four chisel-tipped black felt pens in different nibs, or points, a selection of practice papers and an instruction booklet that outlines Brown's easy-to-follow, step-by-step method. The kit retails for approximately $7.50.

Elegant Writer calligraphy markers, at approximately $1.19 each, offer a less expensive option. The markers are available in a variety of popular colors including blue, red, green, violet, burgundy, black and brown. "The colored pens can complement the color scheme of the wedding," adds Brown.

In addition, a wide selection of nib widths allows thick, thin and decorative strokes. Specialty papers, the SPEEDBALL® Textbook and any of the Ken Brown instruction books also aid the beginning and advanced calligrapher.

For a slightly higher price the OSMI-ROID® lettering pen set, including an instruction booklet and paper, is available.

Tips for brides: Select perfect gowns

From the time a woman becomes engaged until she weds, she embarks on a whirlwind journey of exciting experiences, elaborate plans and lots of important decisions.

One of the bride's most important concerns is selecting her bridesmaids and their fashions. To ensure that her bridal party looks perfect, a bride must pay as much attention to selecting her maids' dresses as she does her own.

1. The bride must select her own gown before choosing her bridesmaids' attire. The maids' gowns must reflect the bride's, not the other way around.

2. The maids' gowns should be somewhat similar to the bridal gown with regard to neckline and waist.

3. Fabrics of the bridesmaids' gowns must be compatible with the bride's. Some bridal gowns combine a combination of fabrics, such as a tulle bodice with a floor-length tulle gown. To best complement this type of gown, the maids' dresses can be made of one of the fabrics, such as the tulle.

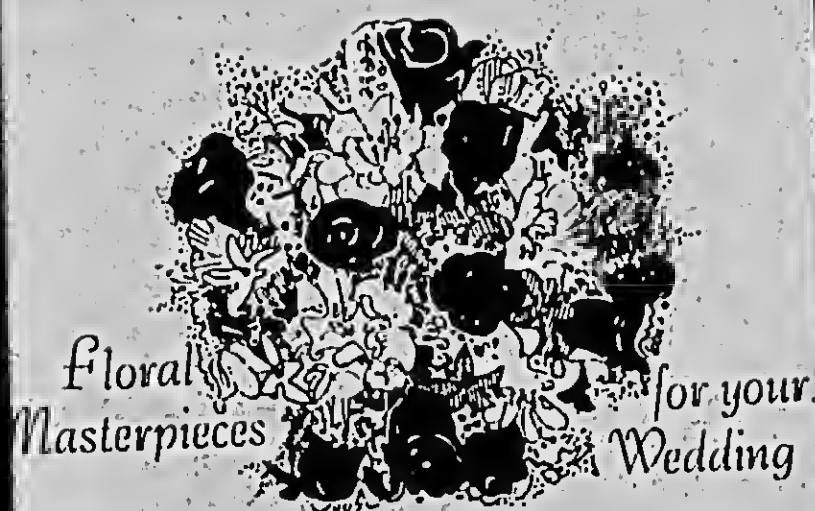

4. Style features in the bride's gown should be complemented, not copied, in the maids' gowns. For example, a bride may select her gown with a puffed "Renaissance" sleeve. Thus, the maids' dresses should also have puffed sleeves, but less full and dramatic than the bride's.

5. The bride must select her bridesmaids' gowns depending on the type of wedding she is having. More elaborate fabrics, dramatic colors and color contrasts, longer lengths and even today's mini lengths are appropriate for formal evening weddings. Tea length or knee-grazing lengths in lightly-decorated fabrics can be worn for casual daytime affairs.

6. The bride who chooses a more traditional wedding gown may choose bridesmaids' dresses in soft, pastel colors. The bride who selects a more contemporary gown for herself may want to choose more dramatic colors and color combinations for her maids, such as black and white or bold jewel-toned colors.

CALLIGRAPHY is a distinctive way to enhance wedding invitations and thank-you notes. SPEEDBALL® Elegant Writer™ calligraphy markers, available in a wide variety of popular colors and a selection of nib widths, are ideal for the novice calligrapher.

Weddings feature updated traditions for the '80s

After years of being scoffed at by those swinging singles, marriage is making a comeback. Suddenly it's chic to say "I do." And, as matrimony becomes more popular, so do big weddings. More and more couples are choosing to throw lavish weddings with all the traditional trimmings.

But just what are those traditions and where did they come from? Many of the customs we practice today were established during the Victorian era. For instance, it was then that wedding attendants were first called bridesmaids, maids of honor and best men.

Elizabeth Laverack takes a look at these and many more Victorian and Edwardian nuptial practices in her book With This Ring (Elm Tree Books), which gives us ideas on how to add old-fashioned touches to today's ceremonies, and helps us appreciate how far we've come since the turn of the century.

Many contemporary brides want to get married in gowns styled after those worn nearly 100 years ago. The feminine detail of these dresses—lace, tiny buttons, fitted waist and elaborate train—make for some of the most romantic looks available today.

Today's bride can wear such a gown and feel beautiful—and comfortable. Her predecessors were not as lucky, however.

According to Laverack, Edwardian and Victorian brides "had an armoury of clothing" under their wedding dresses which included corsets, bustles, petticoats and, of course, the tightly laced corset.

Some of the dresses were so "well-fitted" at the top, that the bride was unable to lift her arms over her shoulders. She needed a lady's maid to help her do her hair and button up the dress.

On her head, the 19th century bride most commonly wore a wreath or a veil. Most of the wreaths were made of artificial orange blossom or jasmine. In fact, orange blossom, or other white flowers, customarily adorned the waist, neck, shoulder and/or the train of wedding gowns up until the First World War, Laverack writes.

Just as they are today, flowers were an important part of 19th century weddings. One popular Victorian custom (which could be adapted today) was the building of a large floral arch to stand in the reception room.

The arch was made of white wicker entwined with sprays of white roses and vines, and the bride and groom stood under it while receiving guests.

As for bouquets, Victorian brides preferred to carry small, round arrangements; posies were quite popular. Edwardian brides often chose to carry large, elaborate bouquets with pieces of greenery that trailed to the floor.

Since most Victorian weddings were held before noon, the reception was held in the form of a large wedding breakfast.

The menu at such an affair for a bride and groom from well-to-do families might include, among many other things, oysters, lobster salad, roast turkey stuffed with truffles, tongue, roast pheasant and eggs in aspic.

The Victorian bride was also very concerned with her trousseau, and might spend years working on it, as much of it was made by hand, according to Laverack.

A ROMANTIC BRIDE waits for her prince in this lovely gown of all-over lace. A sweetheart neckline leads to a straight bodice with re-embroidered lace, sequins and faux pearls. For the bridesmaid (right), a large bow and peplum waistline add interest in delicate sweetheart neckline.

Remarriage: A whole new proposal

Nearly 30 percent of all marriages today are remarriages. But, the number of remarriages isn't all that's growing, says Bride's Magazine. So is the spirit of celebration.

Some of Bride's suggestions for a remarrying couple:

- As the bride, be just a little bit selfish at this time. Wear an engagement ring, indulge in a beauty day at the salon—complete with lavish haircare, facial and manicure. You deserve it all!

- Feel free to marry in the outfit of your choice. The traditionally simple, cream-colored suit is still lovely—but so is a romantically long and lacy gown, in white or your favorite color. The only accessory best omitted, suggests Bride's, is the veil—long a symbol of youth.

- If either of you has children, try to include them in as many plans as you can. As Barbara Tober, Editor-in-Chief of Bride's says, "If children will be part of your marriage, why not make them part of your wedding?" They'll feel especially important playing a role in your ceremony.

- Make your reception as extravagant a party as you wish, complete with all the wedding traditions—a receiving line, the "first dance," the ceremonial cutting of the cake, and a champagne toast.

Tips on tipping: A complex question made simple

Decisions about tipping wedding professionals can be uncomfortable and confusing. How do you handle all those people who make your wedding run smoothly? Who do you tip and how much is enough? Below is a chart designed by Bride's magazine to clear up the confusion. You, your fiancé and your family can refer to it in the busy wedding planning days ahead.

WHOM TO TIP	HOW MUCH	WHEN, AND BY WHOM
Officiant, club manager, hotel banquet manager, bridal consultant.	1-15 percent for extra-special services only. The fee usually covers everything.	Reception hosts pay bill on receipt. Add any special tip to payment.
Waiters, waitresses, bartenders, table captains.	15 percent for servers; 1-2 percent for captains (often included in catering or club bill).	If included, reception hosts pay tips with bill; if not, right after reception.
Band leader, room attendants, coat room attendants in hotels or clubs.	$10 per guest, or arrange a flat fee with the hotel or club management.	If a flat fee, reception hosts pay it with bill; if not, right after reception.
Musician, photographer, baker, musicians on hire, limousine driver.	15 percent for driver; others tipped only for extra-special service, 1-15 percent.	Ceremony hosts tip driver at reception site. Add other tips to bill payments.
Civil-ceremony officials (Judge, Justice of the Peace, city clerk).	Usually a flat fee ($10 and up). Some judges cannot accept money. Ask.	Groom gives fee to best man who pays after ceremony.
Religious members (minister, rabbi, priest).	Usually a donation ($10 and up), depending on ceremony size. Ask.	Groom gives donation to best man who pays after ceremony.
Ceremony assistants (altar boys, servers, cantors, organists).	Sometimes covered by church fee, or ask clergy what's customary ($5-$25).	Ceremony hosts pay church fee when billed; separate fees, tips, after service.

Combining function and quality, a cedar chest is a good investment

Even though old-fashioned weddings are back in style, the times have changed and so have the newlyweds of the 1980s. Not only are they older and wiser, but the newly married couples of today are more financially secure and better educated than ever before.

A look at the statistics:

- Today's first marriage bride is just under 24 years of age and her groom is over 25. In 1966, the bride was only 18.

- Today's newlyweds often have two salaries and a total annual income of $40,000 or more.

- The bridal market, although only three percent of all households, accounts for over 10 percent of all furniture and bedding purchases.

Because these couples are smart and sophisticated consumers, they insist on quality and are willing to pay for it. Representing a strong segment of this country's buying power, today's couples spend a significant portion of their income on home furnishings and are looking for furniture that will prove to be a good investment. Furniture is considered a "big ticket" purchase and is expected to last a lifetime.

Couples across the country are rediscovering the versatility of the cedar chest. It offers the function and quality that today's newlyweds expect in their home furnishings.

An American tradition for more than 300 years, the cedar chest is both an established and, at the same time, a very contemporary piece of furniture.

And for good reason. The "hope chest," with its history of romance, has kept pace with the times.

It was primarily given to young women who were planning to marry or had recently married. These young women generally stored precious faces, linens and other keepsakes in the chest which was placed at the foot of the bed.

While the cedar chest remains a safe haven for valuable heirlooms, innovative designs have changed its image.

The Lane Company, maker of cedar chests since 1912, offers more than 100 styles, ranging from caches and lockers to armoires, in several different woods and finishes. Today's cedar chest can do double-duty as a nightstand, coffee or end table, or even a settee.

"Once a couple finds the chest that is right for them, they'll find innumerable ways to make it an important part of their new home," says Doug Lane, vice president and merchandising manager of The Lane Company.

It is a piece of furniture which performs several functions—in one room or in several. The cedar chest is a perfect choice for newlyweds. Through the years, it grows with the couple to meet their changing needs, tastes and lifestyles.

Your wedding flowers: An expression of 'you' which helps to set the mood

The variety of wedding celebrations today has sparked a renewed interest in using flowers to create an individualized image and to enhance the romantic mood of the entire wedding day.

From the bride and her attendants, to the church or temple, to the reception, flowers play an important role in shaping the beauty of wedding day activities.

Florists' Transworld Delivery Association (FTDA), the nation's largest cooperative of member florists, recommends that you consult with a floral professional well in advance of your wedding day. Your florist can help you select flowers that will best express the style, colors and theme of your wedding.

For convenience, FTD President Bob McNamara suggests grouping wedding styles into three main categories: Traditional, which can also be called old-fashioned or classic; contemporary, which is a sophisticated, dramatic look; and natural, which is a casual, country or garden style.

Many different floral combinations can be used to interpret each of these styles. A contemporary bouquet, for example, will use angular, sculptured-looking flowers.

A natural bouquet's flower content, on the other hand, will depend more on a garden or wildflower look.

According to McNamara, himself a florist for over 30 years, there are basically three different wedding bouquet shapes, which also may be adapted to fit many floral combinations to match wedding style.

The first, and probably best known, is the "shower or cascade bouquet" which falls gracefully from the point where it is held.

Round bouquets, or "posies," feature rosettes of flowers grouped closely together around a central bloom.

And lastly, there are tied bunches of flowers with the stems left intact, called "loose" or "tied" bouquets.

Besides your bouquet, you'll want to consider those of the wedding party. Traditionally, bridesmaids and other attendants carry the same shape bouquet as the bride, with similar floral content. The attendants' dresses, however, will influence your color scheme.

"It's important to select flowers that complement or contrast, not match, your attendants' colors," says McNamara.

McNamara suggests bringing to your consultation a photograph of your dress and a swatch of your attendants' dress material to check color and texture.

A rose or carnation, accented with a touch of baby's breath, is a customary choice when selecting groom and usher boutonnières.

The groom's should be slightly different—give him a white rose, for example, if the rest of the men are wearing white carnations. You may also consider selecting a flower from your bouquet as the groom's boutonniere.

Mothers of the bride and groom usually prefer the traditional wrist and shoulder corsages and flowers on the purse.

Banding together for life

Double ring ceremonies are more popular than ever, as evidenced by the fact that 80 percent of today's couples give each other these tokens of love.

There is also an emerging trend of couples renewing their marital vows and wanting to acknowledge the occasion with a first-time gold band, or "trading up" to a diamond setting that may have been too expensive at the time they first married.

Couples of the '80s see their wedding bands much as they see their vows. More than just a ceremonial object, the mending circle of precious metal is a durable, tangible symbol of their commitment to each other and of the institution of marriage.

Wedding bands also are valued as fine jewelry. Much as they would a watch, bracelet, cufflinks or earrings, men and women value their wedding bands as fashion accessories that reflect the couple's tastes and personality.

Sometimes, bands are chosen to be identical; other times, couples want their individuality to come through in their choice of different bands.

Jewelers of America (JA), the national organization dedicated to consumer education and information about fine jewelry, encourages couples to trust their local professional jeweler to show them the widest selection of wedding band styles, to please every taste.

Your jeweler can show you as many styles of wedding bands as there are ways to say, "I love you."

Although the traditional plain gold band of 4-6mm width is still the Number One best-seller, other popular looks are:

- Diamond-cut;
- Handwoven, braided looks, especially in two and three-color gold;
- Flexible constructions;
- Antique reproductions.

It's important to remember that the wedding bands usually cost less than the flowers or the cake...and last long after the wedding day memories fade!

Warren Twp. High School basketball player Matt Lingenfelter will be playing at Carthage College in Kenosha next year. Lingenfelter, a 6-3 forward, was one of the major reasons the Blue Devils tied for the championship of the North Suburban Conference, won regional and sectional tournaments and advanced to the Sweet Sixteen.

Also attending Carthage will be teammate Dave Nolan. Nolan almost singlehandedly led Warren back into supersectional game against Evanston. The Wildcats prevailed 66-61.

Giving pointers

Mike Patrick demonstrates wrestling move during one of Lake County Wrestling Club's sessions. Hoping to gain experience for next year are: Jeff Walls, Sean Thompson and Ryan Geist. Geist and Walls wrestle at 143 pounds while Thompson competes at 150 pounds. Grayslake High wrestling Coach Steve Kushner supervises the summer wrestling program, which meets at GCHS. It is open to all Lake County wrestlers.

Patriots, Shelton lead selections

North Suburban Conference champion Stevenson led the all Lake County baseball team selections as five Patriots were selected to the squad.

Pitcher Steve Lemke, who was 11-2 on the year, leads the Patriots. In 79 innings, Lemke had 11 complete games in 13 starts and had an ERA of 1.86. He gave up 69 hits and 14 walks.

Outfielder Monte Dillow led the Pats with a .462 average in 30 games. He had 42 hits, and 22 RBIs. Third baseman Peter Neumann, who hit .427 was a second Pat selected. Neumann had 38 hits as did fellow all-County teammate D.J. McCullough. McCullough, a catcher, batted .330. Also making the elite squad from the Prairie View School were shortstop Jim Neary, who hit .344 with 32 hits.

Warren catcher Derek Shelton made the team for the third straight year.

Shelton, who is headed to Southern Illinois University at Carbondale on a scholarship, batted .415 in 70 at bats. He contributed 34 RBIs to the Blue Devils attack. Defensively, he has dared the opponents' baserunners to steal, as he threw out 65 baserunners over the last two seasons.

Scott Stahoviak and Chris Walsh both made the team from regional champion Carmel. Stahoviak batted a crisp .446. He had five home runs and also proved to be fleet of foot with 14 stolen bases in 15 tries. Walsh batted .395 with 21 RBIs and was nine-for-10 in the thefts department.

Grant pitcher Jeff Pett, who was 5-3 with 61 strikeouts, made the pitching staff. He had an ERA of 3.06.

Mundelein pitcher Dave Smith, a senior, also made the team with a 6-4 record. He had an ERA of 2.76.

Tim Unroe, who was named the Most Valuable Player in the Northwest Suburban Conference, had the best batting average of the team members. Unroe batted at a .550 clip for the NWSC champs. Unroe had 44 hits in 80 at bats, contributing 22 RBIs.

Grant second baseman Ken Rashid's .350 batting average and steady defensive play earned him a spot in the infield.

Outfielder Shawn Mauritz batted .467 for the Rams and was selected as well as fellow Grayslake player Jason LaCroix, a catcher.

Two players with consistent bats made the team from Lake Zurich. Dave Anderson, a catcher, batted .338 while Mike Baillie, an outfielder, batted .328.

Rounding out area teams represented were Warren's Brendt Howard, who hit .427 and Wauconda catcher Ken Klesch.

Northwest Suburban selects Brace, Unroe

Baseball player Tim Unroe of Round Lake and softball pitcher Becky Brace of Grant were named Most Valuable Players in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

Unroe was a senior shortstop for the Panthers, who won the NWSC baseball championship. Junior outfielder-pitcher Doug Watts and junior pitcher Bill Thomas were on the all-NWSC team. Unroe and Watts were unanimous selections.

Grant placed three players on the team, led by unanimous pick, second baseman Ken Rashid. Pitcher Jeff Pett, who was 6-1 in NWSC games, and Mark Misiek, a junior shortstop, also made the team selected by league coaches.

Senior outfielder Shawn Mauritz was named as an all-league selection for Grayslake. The Rams, which finished in second place, also had junior pitcher Jim Neuman named to the elite team.

Catcher Ken Klesch continued the strong performances behind the plate for Wauconda and was named unanimous pick. Dave Kyst, a junior outfielder, made the team.

Tony Weber, a senior outfielder, was Johnsburg's selection while Lake

Zurich placed three players. Mike Baillie, a senior outfielder and Dave Anderson, a senior catcher, were named to the squad in unanimous picks and Scott Krezeminski, a junior infielder, was named as well. The selection of Becky Brace was her third such selection.

Mihailovic camps offer students soccer and life lessons

Young people will have a chance to get their kicks in a wholesome, healthy way when the Aleks Mihailovic Soccer Training Camp is held from July 11 through 15 in Glenview.

The intensive five-day session will be conducted by professional soccer players and coaches, according to Mihailovic, a former professional soccer player, coach and top-level clinician who originated summer training program five years ago.

The soccer camp is a highly intensified training program that is geared to the student's level, from beginners to advanced players who want to prepare themselves for high school and college competition, as well as potential professional opportunities.

Camp groups are divided into age groups, with classes for pre-teens and teenagers, as well as "mini-kickers", some as young as five years old.

Besides teaching basic game skills - ball control, dribbling, passing, receiving, shooting and shielding - the camp also stresses tactics in game situations.

"We take a holistic approach to teaching soccer. We help develop personal motivation, confidence, leadership and mind improvement. We think of soccer as a sound way to prepare kids for the game of life," Mihailovic said.

The professional training staff is personally directed by Mihailovic, who was a two-time All-American at Jacksonville University where he broke all scoring records. He also played as a pro with the Washington Diplomats and made his debut as a coach with the Chicago Shoccers.

Instructors for the summer camp include Reuben Stivan of the Buffalo Stallions and the Chicago Shoccers, a clinician and state licensed coach; Richard Alonso, Chicago Sting player; Paul Keenan, head coach at Notre Dame; Jimmy Kelly, player for the Chicago Sting and Los Angeles Lazers and Stan "Scoop" Stansie, goal keeper for the Chicago Sting.

Other soccer camp instructors are: Peter Forde, clinician and player with the Shoccers; Jorge Espinosa, Dallas Sidekicks player and clinician and Dave Hart, goal keeper clinician, Palatine High School coach and state licensed coach.

Tuition for the summer camp is $79 per individual, with a $15 discount for each additional family member enrolled in the program. The tuition fee includes training by the professional staff, specializing goal-keep training, a camp equipment bag, a camp training shirt, discounts on future camp sessions and soccer balls, plus a certificate of achievement.

Camp scholarships for underprivileged youths are available for Soccer Made in America through the cooperation of Gatorade, Lotto, U.S.A., manufacturer of soccer equipment and Jerry Gleason Chevrolet.

Students and parents can obtain detailed information on the Aleks Mihailovic Soccer Training Camp by calling Jackie Simon at (312) 291-1616.

QUESTION: Would you please explain to me what a cataract actually is?

ANSWER: A cataract is a clouding of the normally clear lens of the eye. This clouding, a natural aging of the lens in most cases, prevents light from passing through the lens to the back of the eye, or retina. Much like the lens of your camera focuses light on the film, the lens of your eye focuses light on the retina. If the front of your camera's lens becomes dirty or fogged, then the picture taken will be hazy or blurred.

Warren girls' Elite Eight appearance highlights

STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

The footballs have all been spiked, the basketballs dunked, the baseballs hit and hurdles cleared.

With the issuing of diplomas to all high schools in Lake County last week, the 1987-88 school year and sports seasons officially became a memory. But before reunion stories have one touchdown in four years becoming four touchdowns in one game, let's take a look back at the curious 1987-88 school year.

First off, let's select the best singular event of the season. That's no easy task but one clearly stood out.

The night: Tuesday, Feb. 26, 1988. The place: Round Lake Senior High School. The game: Warren Twp. High School's girls vs. Rockford Boylan. At stake: a trip to the Elite Eight.

Warren rallies from a 10-point first-half deficit to overtake the bigger Titans 61-54. The reason this game was chosen was simple: who could forget something like Terri Ingalls canning key free throws with two seconds left? Who could forget Jennifer Wilmot coming in off the bench for Crystal Cobb to run the offense after Cobb had fouled out? And who could forget Cobb slicing through players four and five inches taller on her way to layups?

It was, as Coach Bruce Campbell said, a dream come true for Warren. Ingalls, Teri Huntington 13 points at halftime. Dave Nolan then led Warren to a comeback and they almost earned the school two trips to Champaign but lost 66-61. Warren, 22-6, shared the NSC title.

Other memorable moments:

Overtime

and Cobb went on to be selected for the all-North Suburban Conference team.

The magic continued for 16 beautiful minutes at Champaign against Chicago Marshall. The Blue Devils led 11-4 early and 20-15 at halftime. But then reality struck and the Commandoes put on a 22-point swing to win 55-38.

Warren, though, had finished at 27-4 its best record ever, won the NSC title at 17-1 and earned a place in the state history books by appearing at Assembly Hall.

The Warren boys team, a team without a superstar, made it to the Sweet Sixteen. A dramatic three-point baseline jumper by Dave Sjong gave the Blue Devils a win over Waukegan East for the sectional title. But against mighty Evanston, Warren trailed by

The football season was pretty much awash for local teams. Antioch did forge a winning season and Lake Zurich made it to the playoffs. The Bears, with new lights at Mel Eide field, went 6-3 but lost to Cary-Grove in the first round of the playoffs, 21-6.

In volleyball, Round Lake was a surprise winner at Antioch's regional, as the Panthers' lineup had to be adjusted at midseason. Libertyville quickly ended Round Lake's hopes in the sectional opener.

Round Lake won the Northwest Suburban Conference basketball title by beating Johnsbury at home and then hearing that Grayslake beat Grant. The Panthers went on to win the Antioch regional over Grant, but lost to Warren in the sectional opener in overtime.

Johnsbury earned three NWSC crowns: in wrestling, girls track and boys tennis. The girls track team topped Grant for the title at Marengo and then the boys tennis team won the conference with an undefeated record, won the NWSC tourney and advanced the entire team to the state meet with a sectional win.

Lake Zurich not only had a new track to use, but started its first season off on the right foot by winning the NWSC crown by beating Grant. The Bears' Martin Milner earned three points in the state meet in the 400.

Grant's softball Coach Sue Richardson knew it should be her team's year to make some hay in the softball world. After a shaky start, the Bulldogs went undefeated in the NWSC, won the Warren regional and beat Libertyville 2-1 in the Highland Park sectional opener. Although the team had to settle for a Sweet Sixteen appearance, the 21-6 record is an achievement it should be proud of.

Carmel started out the 1988 baseball season on a downer - star shortstop Bob Langer was injured just after the opening game. The Corsairs, though, started fast, but realizing the East Suburban Catholic Conference would be another tough test. While previous Carmel teams fell short in the ESCC, the 1988 squad finished at .500 and gained 20 wins. The Corsairs, deep in pitching, then won the Waukegan West regional on the strength of a Scott Stahoviak home run and grand slam.

Stevenson's baseball team won the NSC while Round Lake, after a dismal start, won the NWSC title.

Also of note: in wrestling, Johnsbury's Sean Keagel and Round Lake's Buddy Estes placed at the state meet and across the border in Wisconsin. Salem Central's volleyball and baseball teams both had stellar seasons, making it to the state tournament.

At the College of Lake County, the mens basketball team under veteran mentor Bruce Smith won the sectional title.

In all, the 1987-88 sports season had its accomplishments as well as disappointments. But now is the time to get out those golf clubs and enjoy a few days off: football practice is eight weeks away.

Openings are dwindling for Hospice golf outing

Sting's future shaky, but sign-up a success

Despite doubts about whether or not the Chicago Sting will remain a franchise, plans are to keep the team's soccer camps going.

The camps open June 20 at three sites, including Round Lake.

"We feel strongly about the game of soccer, so regardless of questions about the future of the team, the Sting Summer Camps will continue to operate just as they have for the last 14 years," Sting owner Lee Stern said in a press release.

Stern has threatened to fold the soccer team unless new financial backing is found. The Major Indoor Soccer League (MISL) will conduct its annual draft on June 17 and hold league meetings June 22.

Club officials are more than pleased with the pre-camp response. Registration for the Chicago Sting Summer Camps is moving at an all-time pace, according to Sandra McCullough, director of community relations with the team.

"Based on the enthusiastic response we have received thus far, as well as reports from past seasons, we should surpass the mark of 15,000 youngsters who have participated in the Sting Soccer Camp program over the history of the program. That is a great endorsement of our program," McCullough said.

The Sting, in conjunction with Coca Cola and the Chicago Tribune, will conduct 24 Summer

Soccer Camps (23 day camps and it's the first resident camp in conjunction with the All-Pro Goalkeepers Camp).

The staff for the camps is headed by Sting Head Coach Gary Hindley, with Sting players on the staff for each of the camps. Players who will be teaching at the Sting Summer Camps this year include: Frank Klopas, Charlie Fajkus, Ben Collins, Mike Richardson, Jay McCutcheon, Tony Bono and Batata.

"With the uncertainty surrounding the future of the franchise, it is important that the public is aware that these players have made commitments to the Sting Summer Camps. They understand how important their participation is to these youngsters, and enjoy the experience a great deal," McCullough said.

Coach Hindley is also to be commended for the way in which he has revamped the camp program, McCullough said.

"Our aim is to conduct a series of camp sessions that reflects the excitement and enthusiasm that surrounds Chicago Sting professional soccer," Hindley said.

For further information, interested persons should contact McCullough at the Sting office (312) 693-7000.

Obituary

Joseph Armondo

Age 79, a resident of Fox Lake for many years, and a former resident of Elmwood Park, died on Saturday, June 11, 1988, of the Pavilion Nursing Home in Park Ridge.

Mr. Armondo was born in Italy on May 12, 1909. He acted as mayor of Fox Lake from 1957-1961 and was again elected mayor of Fox Lake from 1965-1975. The former mayor was instrumental in the purchase of Dear Haven Park on Route 59, so that the present Fox Lake Village Hall could be constructed there. He was also the acting mayor during the beginning phases of the water and sewer projects in the village, as well as many other civic improvements for the town.

Mr. Armondo started the Fox Lake Junior Police Organization for children, and he was most supportive of the Boy Scouts of America activities. When he moved to Fox Lake, he ran outdoor movies for the children of Fox Lake and continued until he and his late wife, Marian, operated the Town Theater on East Grand Avenue for seventeen years. Mr. Armondo was a member of the following organizations: The Fox Lake American Legion Post 703; Fox Lake Lions Club, and past president; a fourth degree member of the Knights of Columbus, St. Bede's Council; member of the Fox Lake Chamber of Commerce; former commander of the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary on the Chain of Lakes; a veteran of the United States Navy during World War II and a member of the Ancient Order of Mariners of the Chain of Lakes.

Ex-Fox Lake mayor dies at age 79

Winning or losing, life was an experience to be shared and enjoyed, according to Joseph "Joe" Armondo, whose success in business was exceeded only by his zest for public office. His victories included two periods as mayor of Fox Lake (from 1957 to 1961 and from 1965 to 1975). His defeats included a Democratic candidacy for state representative in 1966 and a bid for the Republican nomination for sheriff in 1962. He was also mentioned as a Democratic candidate for sheriff.

Funeral services were held for Armondo Wednesday, June 15, at St. Bede's Church. Burial was in Ascension Cemetery. Friends called at K.K. Hamsher Funeral Home.

Mr. Armondo was age 79 when he died Saturday, June 11, in the Pavilion Nursing Home, Park Ridge.

He became a Fox Lake resident following Navy service in World War II and operation of a large magazine and distributing business in Chicago. He and his first wife, Marion, who preceded him in death in 1985, owned and operated the Towne Theater in Fox Lake for 17 years.

Armondo's engaging personality and his flair for public affairs made him a natural for politics. He saw the community as an extension of himself, and he pushed for improving and advancing Fox Lake. A modern water system and construction of a new village hall on the former 22-acre Deer Haven Park, acquired while he was in office, resulted from his efforts.

Mr. Armondo worked hard for Fox Lake. His aggressiveness brought an investigation into public land acquisition that resulted in an indictment. He was acquitted, but later pled guilty to tax evasion.

One of his proudest achievements was expansion of the police department, a three-man force during his first term that tripled in size, was professionally trained and housed in modern facilities when he left office. He made certain police had the benefit of a shooting range in the village hall basement. Mr. Armondo was an organizer and former director of the Fox Lake State Bank, past president of the Lions Club, past president of the Chamber of Commerce, past commander of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, and past vice-president of the Lake County Municipal League.

He was born in Italy May 12, 1909. Following his retirement, he maintained homes in Leisure Village, near Fox Lake, and in Hollywood, Fla.

Survivors include his second wife, Ruth; a son, Larry; and a daughter, Kim.

Linden Fest will be 5-day event

Linden Fest is going to be a five-day event this year. It will be held on the parking lot and grounds adjoining the Lindenhurst Village Hall from Wednesday, Aug. 17, through Sunday, Aug. 24.

Joining in the program this year to make it bigger and better than other years is the Lindenhurst Men's Club. Theme of this year's sixth annual program is western. There will be a special event or activity each day. While there will be a special activity or program each day, there will be the same carnival Gibbs Field adjoining the village hall parking lot.

Opening night will be the Little Miss Lindenhurst pageant. All activities and booths will be in operation from 6 to 10 p.m.

On Thursday, Aug. 18, there will be a new comedy program with vaudeville and specialty acts, again from 6 to 10 p.m.

Friday is teen recognition day with a teen dance with dance contest, possible Gong Show, both with prizes that may include a T-shirt. Hours of all activities are 6 p.m. to midnight.

Saturday will see a 100-unit parade wind its way through the village prior to returning to the festival grounds.

Among the featured units are the Antioch High School band, Navy Band and Steel Drum Band. The drum band will play on the main stage following the parade. It uses large oil drums to play calypso-type music. Following this part of the program parade awards will be made, including those for best float, best marching unit, best antique auto, best business entry, best decorated bicycle and best association or club entry.

Saturday's activities continue with a musical program by the Sweet Adelines, a men's barbershop quartet and a dance by a yet-to-be-named band from 6 p.m. to midnight. In the afternoon a Junior Olympics program is also planned.

Sunday's program begins at 10 a.m. and ends at 6 p.m. The stage entertainment will be by Those Little People, a troupe somewhat like midgets. The Jesse White tumbling troupe from Chicago will present its acclaimed act of tumbling and trampoline exercises. For adults there will be a volleyball and horseshoe tournament, nail-pounding contest and obstacle course. The festival will conclude with the presentation of awards, including $1,000 in cash, 13-inch color television and one-half day fishing charter on Lake Michigan.

Throughout the five-day event there will be food and refreshment booths on the grounds, including one serving corn on the cob. There also will be mimes and clowns wading the grounds all five days.

The public is invited to attend. For those who would like to help, call Chairman James Betustak at 356-1824.

"The Contra-Coeaine Connection" will be the topic of a public forum sponsored by the Lake County Peace Alliance on Monday, June 20 at 8 p.m. at the Waukegan Public Library.

Six months before the Iran-Contra scandal surfaced in the press, the Christie Inst., and interfaith public interest law firm, filed suit against the secret network that supplied weapons to Iran and the Contras, along with shipping drugs to the U.S.

The institute will establish in a trial beginning at the end of the month, a long history of a "shadow government" which conducts its own version of U.S. foreign policy.

A video tape produced by the Christie Inst. entitled, "The Shadow Government" will be shown at the meeting. A discussion will follow lead by Cinny Poppin, area representative for the institute. Admission is free. For further information call (312) 746-5244.

Fox Lake board

Dump fire seen for miles

Fox Lake firemen had to call for mutual aid over the weekend to extinguish a stubborn garbage fire that also include a number of burning tires. It was June 12 in an old gravel pit on Rte. 134 across from Holiday Park.

When firemen arrived they found a dump fire that started to burn some tires. Called to assist the firemen were departments from Antioch, Round Lake and Lake Villa. An estimated 40,000 gallons of water was poured on the blaze, which was seen from miles away because of the huge clouds of billowing, black smoke.

St. Therese program

St. Therese Medical Center, in conjunction with St. These Radiology Assoc. now offers outpatient mammography screenings all year to the public for a total cost of $65.

"In taking this step, St. Therese Medical Center recognizes the importance of early detection in breast cancer," Leo Garrison, executive vice president, said.

In addition, St. Therese employees, medical staff members, medical staff and other personnel, volunteers and auxiliary members, are now entitled to the breast screening, including the radiologist's interpretation for $50.

The examination must be prescribed by a physician. Guidelines established by the American Cancer Society regarding the frequency of mammographic screening, suggests that women ages 35 to 39 have a baseline mammogram; women ages 40 to 49 have a mammogram every one to two years and women age 50 and older have a mammogram annually.

For further information on these reduced rates, contact the St. Therese Radiology Dept. at (312) 360-2609.

How Crime Stoppers keeps names secret

From time to time, many people express concern that a crime they read about in the newspapers has gone unsolved, or the criminal has not been caught by the police. In addition to the various crime prevention bureaus or area police departments, there is another crime fighting program called, Crime Stoppers!

Crime Stopper promotes through the "Crime of the Week" aired on television and radio along with being printed in the local newspapers. Crime Stoppers pays cash rewards for tips on crimes. Once the tips are received, they are passed onto the proper police agency to start an investigation. The caller is eligible for a cash reward up to $1,000 based on the value of the information. Many citizens have done their part by calling tips to the toll free Crime Stoppers phone number 1(800)762-STOP (7867). Police have done their part by following up on the tips, thus solving a number of crimes that may not have been solved because of lacking sufficient evidence.

The best part of the Crime Stoppers program is that the caller remains anonymous and gives only information, never his/her name. The caller is assigned a code number for the only identification the caller has with Crime Stoppers. When a reward amount has been determined by the board of directors, a meeting between the caller and a member of the crime Stoppers board is scheduled to take place in public place and the reward will be made in cash.

Allendale gets another home for youths

A dedication ceremony on Friday, June 3, named Allendale's second group home. The Walter L. Cherry Group Home. The new facility in Waukegan is named in honor of Walter Cherry, chairman of Cherry Electrical Products Co., in Waukegan.

Cherry, who joined the Allendale Board in 1972, was a past chairman of the school's board of trustees. Cherry is currently Allendale trustee and chairman of the school's building and grounds committee. He has done a great deal for Allendale by encouraging and helping to renovate and building new facilities. Cherry Electrical employees help support the Allendale programs through generous contributions, which help the agency provide the necessary treatment for the severely disturbed boys and girls who desperately need Allendale's care.

The new group home is located at 421 Water St. and houses up to eight adolescents. This home doubles Allendale's half-way program. Becker House, Allendale's original group home, also in Waukegan, make it possible for the association to serve a total of 15 youths, all former students of Allendale School in Lake Villa. The youths will be able to practice independent living skills in a real community setting, while still under the supervision of Allendale's professional staff. Allendale provides necessary love, care, and support to nurture these individuals for a successful re-entry into society.

8 schools win top awards

Eight Lake County schools have been recognized for outstanding performance by the U.S. Department of Education through the Excellence in Education awards program. Lake County schools selected in 1988 for this prestigious honor are Deerpath and Cherokee Schools (Lake Forest Dist. 67); Hawthorn Intermediate, Hawthorn Junior High (Hawthorn Dist. 73); Indian Trail (Highland Park Dist. 107); Lincoln School (Highland Park Dist. 108); Wilmet Junior High (Deerfield Dist. 109); and Oak Terrace (Highwood Highland Park Dist. 111). In Illinois, a total of 12 public and five private schools were chosen for this year's National award. Lake County schools, in winning eight of the 12 public school awards, accomplished a most unusual and commendable feat.

For the last six years, elementary and secondary schools throughout the country have been recognized for the excellent programs and activities within their buildings. During the first five years of this awards program, Lake County schools won 10 of the 39 total received by schools in Illinois. The eight National awards won by Lake County schools this year brings the total to 18. Sybil Yastrow, Lake County regional superintendent of schools, in announcing these awards for exemplary accomplishments.

Honor for Sen. Schaffer

State Sen. Jack Schaffer (R-McHenry County) of the 32nd Dist. received an award for outstanding service and dedication to Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, during commencement exercises at the school from school President John E. LaTourette. An alumnus of the school, Schaffer was presented the F.R. Geigle Award. The legislator was active in many campus political organizations while at the school earning his degree in management. He was elected to the state senate in 1972.

Sheriff's Dept. wins national awards

The Lake County Sheriff's Dept. is the winner of two 1988 national awards.

Sheriff Clinton Grinnell said the Lake County I-SEARCH program and the Sheriff's Contractual Police Services won National Assn. of Counties 1988 Achievement Awards.

"Naturally, I am elated and proud for receiving national recognition because both Robert Babcox and I worked hard to professionalize the Lake County Sheriff's office and these awards give proof to that commitment," Grinnell said.

"In January 1985, in order to address the problem of missing children in Lake County, we applied for and received a six-month grant to initiate an I-SEARCH (Illinois State Enforcement Agencies to Recover Children) Unit and have continued the program," Grinnell said.

"Since our I-SEARCH program is considered as one of the best missing children programs in the United States due to our fiscal integrity, sound record-keeping, community involvement and success in dealing with children I decided to submit an application to the National Assn. of Counties," Grinnell stated.

"Our Contractual Police Services program gives police protection to those villages which do not wish to staff and equip their own police departments and, yet, they receive the services of professional law enforcement officers," Grinnell said.

"The awards are given to those county organizations that submitted proposals that provided innovative solutions, ingenuity, and creativity in establishing useful programs for the benefit of the people of their community," Grinnell said.

Carmel receives $1,000

Carmel High School has received a $1,000 grant from the Human Development Fund of the Canadian-American Province of the Carmelite Order.

"We applied for funding of our annual Social Awareness Week," said Reverend William J. Harry, O. Carm., "It is our hope to continue building a strong program using these funds."

For the past three years Carmel High School has run a social awareness program focusing on topics of social justice. This past year the American Bishop's pastoral letter on the economy was examined in school assemblies and in regular class periods. In previous years Carmel students have learned about the bishop's stance on the nuclear arms race, the problem of world poverty, and Amnesty International's efforts in the field of human rights.

"We are always in need of financial resources to bring in speakers, to show films and buy other materials so that the students benefit from the program," Harry said. "Over the past three years our students have heard first-hand from Central American refugees, from people who live in shelters in downtown Chicago, and from others who work every day on these problems. It has been a great learning experience for all of us."

Shimer has largest grad class

Shimer College in Waukegan held its 135th year commencement exercises last month at the First Congregational Church in Waukegan. Eighteen seniors graduated, representing the largest class since 1974. "We expect to graduate another 10 seniors in October," said Dr. David Shiner, dean of the college. "This represents an enormous graduating class for a college the size of Shimer." Shiner's address to faculty, students and parents went on to describe this particular graduating class, where "the average score on the analytical section of the Graduate Record Exam (examinations administered nationally to aid graduate schools in their selection process) was in the 90th percentile. Shimer College is a four-year liberal arts institution, one of a handful of colleges in the United States offering an integrated curriculum based on the reading of the original source materials through the Great Books of the Western World. Shimer's class sizes are small and utilize the process of discussion and shared inquiry. The mission of the college is to teach people how to think and to develop the skills of clear expression and analytical reasoning.
